Commons To Spend But Little Time On Opening Debate

House at Ottawa, Starting Discussion on Address in Reply to Speech From Throne, Expects Few Speeches and Early Beginning on Bills Which Are Listed for Members' Attention and Votes at 1930 Session

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Feb. 24.—With the House of Commons getting down to business this afternoon with the moving and seconding of the address in reply to the speech from the throne, a debate was started which is not expected to take many days. The intention has been out that the Conservatives will not move an amendment to the address, and it is likely the party will follow the same tactics this season as last, when Hon. R. B. Bennett was the only speaker from the official opposition. He will be followed by Premier King and probably Robert Gardiner, leader of the United Farmers of Alberta group.

What is most eagerly awaited will be the introduction of bills and the laying out on the table of the House of reports outstanding. One of the early government measures expected is that which rewrites and consolidates the Grain Act. It will be referred to the house committee on agriculture. The bill implementing the report of the radio commission will also be one of the early measures, and the report of the commission on the salaries of technical civil servants also is awaited with considerable expectancy.

PENSIONS BILL
The pensions legislation of the government, it is understood, will not be ready for a few days at least, although it will be brought down fairly early in the session.

NATIONALIZATION OF DISTILLERIES IS NOW URGED

Proposal to Be Laid Before Commons By W. Irvine, U.F.A.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Feb. 24.—Nationalization of distilleries throughout Canada will be urged in the House of Commons this session. The proposal will be sponsored by William Irvine, U.F.A., Wetaskiwin, Alta.
With the question whether or not legislation will be introduced this session prohibiting the granting of clearances to vessels carrying liquor to the United States to be discussed shortly at a caucus of Liberal members, the suggestion from the U.F.A. member arouses considerable interest in political circles. The text of the proposed resolution which will be placed before the Commons for its consideration is as follows:
"Whereas, the provincial governments are committed to the principal of government control of the liquor traffic;
"And whereas, high profits in the liquor industry have led to violation of our own laws as well as to international complications;
"Therefore be it resolved, that in the opinion of this House the Government should consider the advisability of supplementing the policy of government control of the sale of liquor as practiced by the provinces by establishing a system under which the Federal Government would have the exclusive right of manufacture."

WILKINS BRINGS BACK NEW MAPS OF ANTARCTIC REGIONS

Canadian Press
Montevideo, Feb. 24.—Maps showing 300 miles of hitherto unknown coastline discovered by the Wilkins Antarctic Expedition and movie films showing scenes in the eternal ice are in Montevideo today. They were landed here yesterday from the Norwegian steamer Henrik Ibsen, which brought the party from the far south. Sir George Hubert Wilkins, head of the expedition, and Pilot Chesman left the ship off the coast and flew to land by seaplane Saturday.
Sir Hubert stated members of the expedition had kept in excellent health during their stay in the Antarctic, where they arrived late last year.
Six flights were made aboard the hydroaeroplanes Los Angeles and San Francisco, Sir Hubert said. Altogether the planes flew 2,500 miles over territory previously unknown. He said the expedition also had been able to verify theories that the so-called Charcot Island, discovered by the French explorer Charcot, is not an island but a peninsula with a large continent southward. West of Charcot, instead of finding the land he expected, he found only water.
The famous Australian explorer added that when he and his seaplane party were cut off from wireless communication last month, they were in no danger, but found themselves completely surrounded by a range of mountains more than 9,000 feet high, which prevented transmission and reception of messages.
Sir Hubert said he had prepared plans for establishment of permanent observations in the Antarctic, but their installation would depend on the financial co-operation of the nations interested.

TEN KILLED IN CUBA BY EXPLOSION

Four Men Seriously Injured When Havana Pumping Plant Boiler Blows Up

Canadian Press
Havana, Cuba, Feb. 24.—Ten workmen in the Palatino pumping plant of Havana were killed early today by the explosion of a giant boiler. Four others were seriously injured.
The explosion occurred in one of three great boilers, completely wrecking them.
The district was heavily shaken and windows of houses within a radius of ten blocks were shattered. The water supply for a section of the city had to be cut off.
The damage was estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.
Police mounted guard at the pumping plant while workmen searched the ruins for other bodies.

POTATO MEN DECLARE FOR THE B.C. ACT

Lively Meeting at Cloverdale Results in Their Refusing to Break Away

Canadian Press
Cloverdale, B.C., Feb. 24.—Potato growers of the lower mainland refused to be divorced from the B.C. Marketing Act when a resolution to that effect was introduced shortly before midnight on Saturday at a crowded meeting in Cloverdale.
Amid a scene of confusion, E. D. Barrow, former Minister of Agriculture, and chairman of the meeting, declared the resolution defeated at 12:45 a.m. Sunday.
Standing on a chair, Mr. Barrow shouted his decision, his voice being hardly audible above the babel that had arisen consequent on Delta growers and their supporters refusing to allow their members to be counted.
The decision was received with deafening cheers, catcalls and howls of derision, which continued until the meeting closed. The session was featured throughout by stormy passages and outspoken criticisms.
EXEMPTION FOUGHT

Miami, Fla., Feb. 24.—Two unmasked bandits held up the Bank of Coral Gables today and escaped with between $15,000 and $20,000.

ANOTHER DAY OF LOSSES ON WHEAT PRICES

May Closes at $1.11 5-8 at Winnipeg and October at $1.15 1-2 a Bushel

Lack of Export Demand Is Big Influence on Exchange
Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Feb. 24.—Wheat prices declined, orderly but drastically, to new low levels for the year here today. Continued lack of export demand for North American wheat and weakness at Liverpool and Chicago market chiefly accounted for the liquidation of old crop futures which bore down on the exchange. Closing prices were 3 1/2 cents lower than Saturday's close, but slightly better than today's bottom prices.
Seasonal lows were recorded in all three futures months. May delivery finished at $1.11 5/8, as compared with its low about noon of $1.10 1/2. July pressed forward from its low of $1.13 1/2 to finish at $1.13 1/2, while October closed at $1.15 1/2, after touching $1.14 1/2 a bushel.

SINKS OF ITS OWN WEIGHT
Lacking any real pressure on the selling side, the market appeared to sink of its own weight. Numerous stop-loss orders were encountered on the downward trend, which further demoralized the pit, but sales on this account were smaller than expected. Scattered but determined buying in the session's closing minutes brought values up about a cent from the lows, but this support could not be traced.
Week-end export sales were again negligible. Wires to-day indicated that between 300,000 and 400,000 bushels of wheat from this continent had been sold for export.
Cash wheat holders continued to cling to their stocks, present low levels resulting in practically no business being done on the market. Spreads were about 1/2 cent better.

DECLINE AT CHICAGO
Chicago, Feb. 24.—Grain prices collapsed from 3 1/2 to 6 1/2 cents a bushel to-day in a market session almost demoralized by selling orders.
Rock bottom for the season was reached by all grains with an extreme loss of 7 1/2 cents in wheat at one time. The final levels were only fractionally above the low points.
Closing wheat quotations were: March $1.08 1/2 to $1.09 1/2; May $1.08 1/2 to $1.09 1/2; July $1.10 1/2 to $1.11 1/2, and September $1.13 1/2 to $1.14 1/2.
The domestic markets sold off fractionally, making up for the time lost during Saturday's holiday, while world markets were declining.

MAN IS KILLED BY DYNAMITE

Seattle, Feb. 24.—Blown fifty feet into the air when a box of dynamite near which he was working was mysteriously exploded, Sam Jones, twenty-two, rigging slinger for the Seattle water department at Cedar Lake, was instantly killed.

Jones held a stick of dynamite in his hand and had struck a match to ignite the fuse. Suddenly, witnesses said, a box containing more than 100 pounds of dynamite and caps standing several feet away exploded. It was believed a spark from the match flew into the box.

REPORT NAVAL PARLEY FAILING GIVEN DENIAL

London, Feb. 24.—Premier MacDonald, through his secretary, authorized a statement this afternoon that there was no truth in a morning newspaper's article declaring the Naval Limitation Conference had failed.
The article appeared in The London Daily Express under the heading "Naval Conference Collapse." It began "The London Naval Conference is closing down until 1933."
Arthur Page, at the headquarters of the United States delegation, characterized the article as "rot."

DEATH MAKES GAP IN RANKS OF FILM FOLK

Mabel Normand, Famous For Years as Comedienne, Dies in California

Canadian Press
Monrovia, Cal., Feb. 24.—The motion picture colonies of Southern California and many patrons of movie shows throughout the United States and Canada to-day mourned the passing of Mabel Normand. The actress whose private and film life offered strangely contrasting roles of tragedy and comedy, died in a sanitarium here at 2:30 a.m. yesterday. She had suffered from tuberculosis since the latter months of 1918.
Blood transfusions recently resorted to in hope they would strengthen the actress' weakened general condition, failed, and after an almost imperceptible sinking spell last Saturday night, the comedienne whose career was trailed by the laughter of her many audiences, died at the Pottinger Sanitarium here. Only her secretary, Mrs. Julia Benson, and a night nurse were at her bedside.

A plan for the development of Beacon Hill Park is being considered by the city parks committee. It was stated to-day by Alderman John Worthington, chairman. The committee recently entertained A. S. Wootton, engineer of the Vancouver Parks Board, who was taken around city parks, and spent some time in going over Beacon Hill.
Aldermen Alex. Peden and E. S. Woodward, Parks Superintendent T. R. Purdy and John Baxter, secretary of the International Parks Association of the Northwest, were summoned by Alderman Worthington to meet Mr. Wootton, and all spent some time in reviewing possibilities in connection with the development of a waterfront walk at Beacon Hill.

Crew Saved After Ships In Collision

Montevideo, Feb. 24.—The British liner Vauban, bound from New York to Buenos Ayres, collided early today with the 400-ton Uruguayan coasting steamer Batutu near this port. The crew of the Batutu was saved.
The steamer Batutu was owned by a Uruguayan company. It was built in 1889. The Vauban of 10,000 gross tons, was built in 1912. The latter is operated in the Liverpool-South American service by Lamport and Holt Limited.

He continued to Nome and started back to Fairbanks an hour after his arrival with another load of passengers, who alighted from the Fairchild cabin plane at Ruby bound for the strike.

Canadian Press

Police to-day said they did not believe either man had any connection with the crime, but they considered it possible they might divulge valuable information. Both men were booked for investigation.

Game Commissioner Would Have Employed Men Fighting Stock Killers

B. Williams Tells of Disease Among Deer on Vancouver Island

Payment of bounties for cougars, coyotes and other animals which take their toll on farms of British Columbia is not considered so effective by the Game Board as the employment of predatory animal hunters. Bryan Williams, game commissioner, told the Agriculture Committee of the Legislature this morning.

THREE WORKERS AT DAM KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Vancouver, Wash., Feb. 24.—No trace had been found to-day of the body of C. B. Nicklan, forty-three, who, with two others, was killed in an unexpected blast of 600 pounds of dynamite near here Saturday evening. A shred of clothing was found, however, and it was believed Nicklan had been blown to bits.
Mike Cappas, thirty-nine, of Portland, and L. Cushman, twenty-four, of Elma, were the other victims.
H. F. Lincoln, construction superintendent for the Phoenix Utility Company, which is erecting a dam and power station for the Northwestern Electric Company on the Lewis River, said he believed the blast was due to carelessness in handling the explosive.

'Part of Cayuga, Ont., Is Flooded As River Rises

Hamilton, Feb. 24.—With the Grand River fifteen feet higher than the highest levels yet recorded, sections of the town of Cayuga were under water to-day. Roads were flooded, farms inundated, and general havoc created along the entire lower valley of the big stream.
Scores of halfbreed escapes and gallant rescues filtered through from the district as motorists, turned back by blocked roads, returned to the city.
Communication with Cayuga was difficult to establish during the morning.

Of Total Appropriation for West of Great Lakes, $11,000,000 Will Be Used for Branch Line Construction and $10,000,000 for Improvement of Existing System; Bridges on E. and N. Line Are to Be Replaced

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Feb. 24.—The Canadian Pacific Railway will expend $21,000,000 in western Canada this year, it was announced to-day by D. C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of western lines, on his return here from a conference at Montreal with executive officers of the company.
Branch line construction and improvements designed to increase the capacity and efficiency of lines now operating would absorb the entire appropriation for the west, Mr. Coleman said. Eleven million is set aside for the branch line construction programme, and $10,000,000 for improvement of existing lines.

NAVY PARLEY ENTERING ITS FIFTH WEEK

Delegates Await Return of French Delegation Following Test in Paris Chamber

London, Feb. 24.—The five-power Naval Limitation Conference entered its fifth week to-day very much in the doldrums.
Preparations were begun for resumption of actual work Wednesday, but the preparations were somewhat indifferent, for unless the French Government withdraws its session in the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow the forced adjournment of last week may have to be continued indefinitely.

130 Poisoned At Big Banquet Recovering

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—Poisoned by food served at a Salvation Army banquet here, nearly 130 persons, most of them children, were recovering with few exceptions at hospitals and in their homes to-day as authorities began a three-day investigation to determine the cause and fix responsibility for the near tragedy.
While there were no deaths reported, at least a dozen sufferers were still in a serious condition in a San Francisco hospital. Among them was Colonel A. W. Crawford, second in command of the Golden Gate division of the Salvation Army and father of Rhea Crawford, former "Angel of Broadway."
City health officers began an analysis of food served at the banquet in an effort to determine the nature of the poisoning. Emergency hospital physicians said the symptoms were of a botulism poisoning, resulting from eating tainted meat, but withheld a definite statement, pending the analysis.
The banquet was given by the Young People's Congregation of the Salvation Army. Approximately 500 (Concluded on Page 17)

BOAT PILOTS OF YANGTSE ARE OUT ON STRIKE

River Captains Want Higher Pay; 85 Per Cent of Ships Involved

Shanghai, Feb. 24.—A serious impediment to the Yangtze River shipping interests of the Upper Yangtze River on one hand and the Chinese River Pilots' Association on the other was revealed here to-day.
It was learned that 130 pilots employed by boats operating between Ichang and Chungking had struck, demanding increased salaries to enable them to resist several years' unemployment of the association. Nearly all commercial traffic on the Upper Yangtze thus was paralyzed. This further impeded China's internal commerce, which already was at a low level, because of civil wars, depreciated currency values and other economic ills.
The strike involves eighty-five per cent of the shipping on the Upper Yangtze, in which sixty vessels are employed. United States companies involved are the Yangtze Rapids Steamship Company and the Standard Oil Company of New York.

According to the pilots, they made a straight, clear flight. They stated the lights on intermediate fields along the route were satisfactory.
For the first time, all lights on the Regina field were in operation. The revolving beacon light was in action for the first time.

A PAIR OF ACES

Enemy airmen who flew to fame on opposite sides of the front in 1918, Major George A. Vaughan Jr., left, second American ace, and Capt. Francis Schleiff, former ace of the German air forces, refought the World War in a friendly way when they held this meeting at the Newark, N.J., airport. Major Vaughan, now commanding officer of the 27th Division Air Service, was credited with thirteen enemy planes during the war. Schleiff officially accounted for twenty-two before the British shot him down, with the loss of his left hand.

inquiries, and this later bore fruit in the production, in collaboration with the late Lord Constable, of a standard textbook on private bill procedure.

Lord Macmillan's speeches in court on even the most prosaic subjects have always had a fine literary quality, being delightfully phrased and full of apt allusion, which always made his appearances in any of the courts a pleasure and delight. He has the reputation at the Bar of being not only the fastest speaker but of having a tireless voice. In one case in Scotland he spoke for five days. He also made a two-day speech on behalf of the promoters of a road transport bill.

PASSIVE IN POLITICS

A number of years ago he was adopted as the Unionist candidate for East Lothian, but owing to health reasons resigned the candidature. Since that time his interest in politics has been passive, and he has not appeared on the political platform. In 1924 he was Lord Advocate in Ramsay MacDonald's first administration, the appointment being entirely "non-political."

In more recent years Lord Macmillan acted as chairman in a number of important inquiries, the most recent being his appointment as a Court of Inquiry into the wool textile dispute in the Old Country.

Lord Macmillan has chosen the title of Baron Macmillan of Aberfeldy, honoring the memory of his father, who was born and brought up in Aberfeldy.

PLANE IN LOOP OF DEATH

An aerial joy ride's tragic end is pictured here in the fire-blackened wreckage of a biplane which fell out of a loop at an altitude of 1,000 feet and crashed into a thicket near Hollis, Long Island, killing two men. The victims were Edwin Magruder of Hattiesburg, Miss., the pilot; and William H. Gillett of Alpine, Texas, a passenger. Would-be rescuers were driven away by flames which consumed the craft after its plunge to the ground.

H. MACMILLAN IS NAMED NEW APPEAL LORD

Prominent Barrister Takes Seat on Privy Council; Was Visitor Here

Victorians will learn with interest of the appointment of Right Hon. Hugh Pattison Macmillan, K.C., as Lord of Appeal in Ordinary by the King. Mr. Macmillan was a visitor here in September, 1928, when he made a distinct impression in an address before a large gathering of the members of the Men's Canadian Club.

The new Lord of Appeal in Ordinary took his seat as a member of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council for the first time early this month. The appointment was made on January 26. Lord Macmillan, the only son of the late Rev. Hugh Macmillan, D.D., L.L.D., of Greenock, Scotland, was born in 1872. He graduated at Edinburgh University with first class honors in philosophy in 1893, and took his L.L.B. in 1895 at Glasgow University. He was admitted as a member of the Faculty of Advocates in 1897 and became a K.C. in 1912.

Soon after beginning work in Parliament House, he gave indication of the promise which later years has seen fulfilled.

FINE VOICE

His clear and logical pleading, his alert mind, his beautifully modulated voice and his industry were manifest at the outset. He quickly took a foremost position among his contemporary juniors, and became one of the busiest counsels in Parliament House. He was largely engaged at the Bar in municipal work, and turned the knowledge thus gained to practical purpose in developing a very fine practice in private bill

Passengers, too, travel in comfort in the heated compartment.

A Tip

...From.....

Andrew Carnegie

ASKED to explain his phenomenal success, Andrew Carnegie blandly attributed it to his ability to get men to work for him who knew more than he did.

And that's a formula for success. Nobody who is really successful does all the work himself. He employs other people's minds and efforts.

Do you do the same in the intricate business of running your home and taking care of your family? You can, quite easily.

You can employ specialists in diet; you can serve the master dishes of famous chefs; you can have the advice of style authorities in selecting your clothes, of whole electrical laboratories in buying household appliances, by reading the advertisements.

All the newest knowledge—knowledge millions of dollars and years of effort have won—is contained in the advertisements.

If you will use the advertisements in this newspaper as Andrew Carnegie used men who knew more than he did, every dollar you spend will be spent wisely, economically, and will return full measure of satisfaction. That's the way to be a success in the greatest business in the world—making a home.

WANTED CASH, NOT MORE LAND

IN THE VIGOROUS AND SENSATIONAL
Better Terms fight conducted by Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, the restoration of the railway lands and Peace River block to this province by the Dominion was not an issue. What Sir Richard, as well as premiers who had preceded him, sought from Ottawa was a special cash subsidy in addition to a subsidy received by British Columbia as part of its confederation bargain. His contention was that the burden of administration in British Columbia, owing to physical conditions, was greater than that of the other provinces and that this province, therefore, was entitled to special treatment in a financial sense.

Sir Richard's case was presented at an inter-provincial conference at Ottawa in 1906, when he asked for a special subsidy of one dollar per head per annum for British Columbia, the amount decreasing as the population of the province increased until, when the total population was 2,500,000, the subsidy would be twenty-five cents per head, at which it would remain. This was to be in addition to such general increases to the provinces as were agreed upon by the conference. The conference would not go that far, and instead passed a resolution giving British Columbia a special grant of $100,000 per year for ten years. Sir Richard would not agree to this as a settlement of his claim, and withdrew from the conference.

About the last thing the government of British Columbia wanted at that time was more land to administer. In fact, having based its claim for better terms upon the high cost of administering what land it had, its case would have been seriously weakened if it had demanded the 20,000,000 acres of railway and Peace River areas which up to now have been administered by the Dominion. British Columbia was not in a position to carry such an additional load, and even if the Ottawa government had offered to restore these lands at that time the offer would have had to be rejected unless it were accompanied by an assurance of sufficient funds to administer them.

The campaign for the restoration of the railway lands and Peace River block was of more recent origin, and was something of a corollary to the fight for better freight rates initiated by the Oliver government, in which the records of the extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway to the coast and the conditions under which British Columbia entered confederation came under review. Mr. Oliver felt that the time was opportune to press for the restoration of the lands, particularly in view of the negotiations under way between the prairie provinces and the Dominion for the return of their natural resources. His activities and speeches, and those of Mr. Pattullo, both in British Columbia and the east on this subject, will be recalled. The appointment of the Martin Commission by the Dominion government to inquire into the subject followed a resolution asking for the return of the lands, moved by Mr. Oliver and adopted by the Legislature early in 1927.

But whatever difference of opinion there may have been over the origin in British Columbia of the campaign for the restoration of these lands to the province, there can be none over the identity of the government at Ottawa which has so generously acceded to British Columbia's wishes.

A MUCH-NEEDED SERVICE

IT IS GRATIFYING TO LEARN THAT tenders have been invited by the provincial government for the establishment of a new ferry service between the Saanich Peninsula and Salt Spring Island. This matter has engaged the attention of local bodies, notably the Chamber of Commerce, for some time, and they, with Colonel Peck, have been pressing the project upon the provincial authorities.

Although the connection from Victoria and Sidney at present afforded has met requirements to a considerable extent, settlement and holiday development on the adjacent islands has gone on at such a pace in recent years that a more direct service now has become necessary. It is safe to predict that enough business will be available to justify the venture.

Although this new service is to give connection with Salt Spring, it is to be hoped that before very long the other islands of the gulf will be furnished with better means of communication with this community than they have at present. It is to be hoped, too, that the public will support these facilities.

CIGARETTES AND THE TRUTH

ADVERTISING HAS BEEN DEVELOPED into such a fine art that while some forms of it may at times become fulsome, the general tone of the claims made by producers is nearly always honest in its intent. But the United States federal trade commission apparently has found it rather difficult to believe that a certain kind of cigarette will promote the health of those who smoke it and help to keep women slender. As a matter of fact the commission does not agree that "health and vigor to men, slender figures to women, and reduction of flesh in all cases" necessarily will result from indulgence in the fragrant weed so advertised, while it has obtained a promise from the manufacturer that in future he will refrain from calling his product something in the nature of a panacea for the tired male or the female inclined to obesity.

On the subject of smoking, ideas differ considerably. Extreme opponents of it will tell you that it is very bad for your health, and particularly if you inhale. Few who propound this theory have much scientific knowledge to support it. But it requires a truly elastic imagination to catalogue smoking as a physical benefit to the human race. Advertisers of tobacco in its varied finished form, however, will not be in conflict with the ethics of commercial publicity if they invite smokers to believe their product cheap and satisfies, even though it is not entitled to be considered the elixir of life.

AFTER FIVE WEEKS

ALTHOUGH THE PUBLIC IN THE countries taking part are waiting for the delegates to the naval-parley in London to talk more of disarmament and less of increasing armaments, the British and United States spokesmen appear to be satisfied so far with what is described as sound and hopeful for the future of disarmament, even though what has been accomplished is not spectacular. Five weeks of time already have been consumed; but that may be considered a very short period in view of the importance of the business and the evident difficulty of reconciling conflicting views.

Colonel Stimson thinks the United States mission to London would have been justified if the only accomplishment of the conference had been the five-power agreement to "humanize" submarine warfare. If such aims as may be drawn up for the regulating of submarines in warfare were assured of recognition—all this, of course, is on the assumption that there will be occasion for their use again—there might at least be some justification for feeling pleased about this compromise. But if there should be another conflict on a large scale, whole nations would be directly involved, fighting for their lives with every means at their command. Is it likely that a nation seeing an opportunity of obtaining an advantage will feel like observing rules laid down in peace time? War changes the whole moral outlook of peoples. Restraint disappears and with it most rules made by men in their sane moments.

HARD UP FOR MATERIAL

NEWS FROM OTTAWA TELLS US that the members of the opposition in the House of Commons and Conservatives of the Senate held a council of war after the opening of Parliament, that they considered the Speech from the Throne, and finally decided to attack the government on the employment situation.

There is nothing very surprising in this disclosure of the opposition's tactics. Many times during the last two or three years Mr. Bennett and his followers have pooh-poohed the idea that the prosperous conditions obtaining from the Atlantic to the Pacific—they really did admit at times that the country was not in such bad shape after all—could be associated in any way with the manner in which the Dominion's business had been conducted by the present government at Ottawa.

There are now certain disturbing economic factors, however, which apparently are suggesting to the minds of the leader of the opposition and his followers a new subject. The implication is that they propose to blame the King government for the short crop and the stock market crash. It seems to be a case of any port in a storm. Tell the government its policies have had nothing to do with prosperity; but throw all the blame upon it if things for the time being are not quite as rosy as they would have been if certain uncontrollable circumstances had not intervened!

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

UNEMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION

The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix

Some believe that unemployment in the cities is a proof that immigration last summer was excessive, but the number of men out of work is insignificant compared with the number of newcomers.

LET'S PLAY SAFE

The Hamilton Spectator

There were forty-five violent deaths in Hamilton last year which were made subjects of official inquiry. In the majority, coroners' juries returned verdicts of accidental death and attached no blame. Eighteen of these deaths were caused by automobile accidents, and twelve were the result of injuries sustained in industrial plants. Nobody believes, of course, that the majority of these fatalities were unavoidable. The motorist public as a class may have to take the responsibility for the motor car tragedies. As a class, motorists take chances and are given to winking at the regulations. It is difficult, after a crash, to estimate the rates of speed at which the automobiles involved were travelling. The drivers, of course, if they survive to tell about it, are going to give themselves the benefit of any doubt. That's human nature. But it is to be doubted if there is an owner of an automobile in Hamilton who hasn't at some time or another exceeded the city speed limit of twenty miles an hour. He finds it necessary to do so at times to keep pace with traffic. It would be interesting to know how many fatalities were caused by "those few miles per hour more than the limit."

CHEERY CANADIANISM

The London Advertiser

At a meeting of the Maritime Provinces Association, the toast to the Maritimes was responded to by Miss Marshall Saunders, author of "Beautiful Joe." She said: "We all know how wonderful we are, and I only want to comment on our wonderfulness. But we get it from the sea. I've boomed the Maritimes so much in Ontario that some people have asked me why I don't go back there."

"But here we are. And let me tell you that if you are not happy here, and want to move on, go north. I've just been roughing it in one of the best warmed hotels on the continent up there."

"Would you like to have something serious now? Well, first of all, let our ladies buy things at home. There'd be a perfect scandal if I told what I know of ladies in high places smuggling things across the border."

"And another thing: Let us not be afraid of the so-called Americanization of Canada. What's really going on is the Canadianization of North America; and Uncle Sam doesn't seem to mind, for I've heard him say so. And it's going to go on more and more, for where is Uncle Sam going to put all his boys and girls in a few years if they don't come here?"

Mr. Bennett, the Conservative leader, was present, and we hope he was cheered by these remarks about Canadianization and Americanization. There is nothing to be afraid of, so long as we encourage sturdy Canadian sentiment. And, as Miss Saunders suggests, in the future the surplus population of the United States will prefer Canada to any other country.

A THOUGHT

The fool foldeth his hands together and eateth his own flesh.—Ecclesiastes IV:5.

A learned fool is more foolish than an ignorant fool.—Mollere.

Across the Bay

The new members become used to the House—the House becomes used to the new members—and the old ones in new places—some new personalities emerge—and others recede.

By H. B. W.

FOUR WEEKS have come and gone in this second session of the Seventeenth Parliament of British Columbia. This, with the nine weeks of last year's session, makes thirteen weeks of legislative experience for the new members who were elected in the federal poll of 1929, and at last they are beginning to get used to it. At last they seem to be a proper part of the assembly, for at first, to the old-timers, they were viewed with alarm and regarded as strangers. Now every one has found his own niche. And some who were expected to fill large niches have settled into small ones. While others who were counted upon to fill large ones have retreated into the furthest background.

IT IS all a matter of getting used to new legislatures, new faces, new ways of doing the same old things. No one used to it is hard to believe that Mr. Pattullo hasn't been leading it for generations. There are even some who never expected to see Mr. Pooley in the Attorney-General's chair, and whose wildest expectations have been exceeded.

THUS, IN the long, inarticulate back branches we are getting used to the strange, new faces, and are beginning to learn something of the men behind them. We are beginning to learn, too, where the cabinets of tomorrow are likely to come from. Not to choose individually, but going down the line from top to bottom, one finds the back benches of the opposition containing promising material from which much more should be heard in the years to come. Dr. Gillis of Yale is one of this little group which professes no great skill in politics, but has arrested the attention of the House by an evident desire to be useful. Dr. Gillis comes from a little town of Merritt, but his constituency covers a huge area, running far down the Fraser, and he is close to the people, as a doctor with a large practice can be. He has had no use for the flag waving and trumpet blasts of political warfare, and no pretence at fervent public speaking, but is able to offer sound ideas in such a way that the government is often inclined to accept them.

NEAR HIM is Mr. Pearson of Nanaimo, another new member, who is evidently regarded as timber for the next Liberal cabinet. Mr. Pearson is no deep-seated politician either. He is zealous in criticizing the government's weaknesses, but never hesitates to praise its useful deeds. A successful business man, Mr. Pearson has devoted himself seriously to the study of Provincial finances, and if Mr. Pattullo ever forms a government, it may be to the finance department that Mr. Pearson will go. Quick, terse and fluent in his utterance, but infrequent in his speeches, Mr. Pearson is one of the most forceful and attractive of the new personalities added to the House in 1929.

MR. HANNA of Alberni is generally supposed to be the baby of the House, though on these matters you never can be certain. He, too, is a young man of much promise and is proving extremely useful to the opposition in discussion of educational matters, in which he takes a special interest. Mr. Hanna has an odd, almost angelical manner of speaking, to which the House is becoming accustomed.

OF NEW Conservative members there are many. They dominate the cabinet, where there are seven of them, and they dominate the back benches. Among these newcomers outside the cabinet are many who would have liked to have been inside it; and of some it is said they still nourish the belief that they could make a better job of it than some of the existing ministers.

IT IS said of Mr. Kirk of Vancouver, for instance, that he feels that he could handle the Finance portfolio with ease, and there are many who agree with him. Mr. Kirk is, indeed, one of the genuine personalities swept into the House by the tidal wave of the last election. Dapper beyond all other members, with his spats, his cane, his elegant cravat and eyeglasses, and his thoughts in a whirlwind of words, which tumble over one another and merge together in their flight. But once you have become accustomed to it, you will find that Mr. Kirk usually knows what he is talking about and has an extraordinary grasp of many things.

ACROSS FROM Mr. Kirk sits another of the young members from Vancouver, Mr. Dick. Mr. Dick also is a personality. He has not had Mr. Kirk's experience in public affairs, but he has a crusader's zeal for doing the right thing for the country, and says pretty much what he thinks, regardless of the feelings of the government. Mr. Dick has no torrent of words. He talks in a strange, jerky monosyllables with a

"Humph?" At the end of each one of them. His pet theory is that a business man is mad to ruin his peace of mind by going into politics, and it is a constant source of wonder to him that he has made this mistake.

MR. CARSON of Lillooet is the youngest Conservative, and one of the most popular. He is an out-of-door-man and looks it. He comes from his ranch halfway up Pavilion Mountain, and above the clouds on the old road from Lillooet to Clinton, and, like most men from such places, he is no great talker. He talks little but soundly, and finds no difficulty in expressing his meaning. If Mr. Carson remains in the House, and if the Conservative party remains in power long enough, it is quite likely that he will sit one day in the Treasury instead of the back benches.

THERE ARE many other new additions to the assembly. There is dear old Captain Fitzsimmons of Keelock, whom no one could dislike, however earnest his hostility to the captain's party. There is Rod MacKenzie of Cariboo, with his crisp Scotch humor. There is Colonel Spencer of Vancouver, the man of big business in politics. There is Wells Gray of New Westminster, who knows more about politics than all the rest of the new members combined. There is Mr. Rutledge of Burnaby, whose independence of thought is no comfort to the government. And altogether, by and large, the Legislature has settled down and become what the Legislature always is, a pretty accurate reflection of the average intelligence and average virtue of British Columbia.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, February 24, 1905.
Frank W. Morse, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, has received an announcement from London, which is of the most interesting character to the Canadian public, and at the same time is most gratifying to the officials of the transcontinental line.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Variable winds, unsettled with showers.

The proceedings in the Legislature this afternoon were largely of a routine character. The great part of the time was taken up with the consideration in committee of the new County Court Act.

A very important meeting of the City Council was held last evening. At Monday's meeting all the work brought up was not disposed of, and the Songhees Indian Reserve question and other business was left over to be considered last evening.

As already stated in The Times, the C.P.R. Company intended taking over the E. & N. on the first of April. In an interview given in Vancouver, R. M. Marpole, superintendent of the Western division of the big road, said that as soon as the season was sufficiently advanced they would send out exploration parties on Vancouver Island.

A strong effort is being made today by a deputation representing the newly-formed international baseball league, and comprising D. E. Dugdale, John J. McCloskey, G. O. Howlett, A. E. Tulk and W. D. Hayward, to induce Victoria business men to organize themselves into a stock company for the formation of a local professional baseball team. The delegation arrived from Seattle yesterday afternoon.

cism into Italy her industries have multiplied numbers, many have succeeded and others have failed. In this point, however, let me quote some first-hand information obtained just a few months ago at a meeting of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the Empress Hotel, from A. B. Muddiman of Milan, Italy, Canadian Trade Commissioner to Italy. In his own statement he pointed out that "Italy is now a leader in commerce as well as in politics, and that expansion of industry had been notable in recent years."

Now which are you going to believe, Signor Nitti who has not been in Italy for the last eight years, or A. B. Muddiman, who resides there, and sees things in a British business point of view? As for Italy's stand at the naval parley, I may refer to the statement made by Signor Dino Grandi, Italian representative in London, in which he said that Italy is prepared to reduce her navy to any minimum quota, but relatively in proportion to other nations, and parity with other European continental powers, and not favoring still more expenditures on armaments as stated by Signor Nitti.

Like a scene on a war-torn battle front is the one pictured here after an explosion of accumulated gas had wrecked a house in Brooklyn, N.Y., and rocked the school building shown in the background, injuring more than thirty pupils, many of whom were taken to hospitals. This picture shows how roofs and walls of the dwelling and the windows of the school were shattered by the terrific blast. Two thousand pupils were attending classes when the explosion occurred.

Downward Price Move General On All Markets In Canada Last Week

(Written for the Canadian Press by Thomas C. Thompson)

Toronto, Feb. 24.—Drastic declines in wheat prices, uncertainty over the business outlook, and general indecision on the part of speculative traders, contributed to irregular and generally downward price movements on Canadian stock markets this week.

That the business outlook has not lived up to expectations of the most optimistic observers is apparent in the less hopeful comment of many authorities during the week. It is recognized that recent severe depression in the wheat market cannot fail to have an adverse effect on the purchasing power of western agriculturists.

News of the oil industry was decidedly unfavorable, and no apparent progress has been made by leading United States producers in their efforts to bring about a more equitable relationship between production and consumption.

NO SUSTAINED DEMAND

At the close of the week, such representative issues as Massey Harris, Brazilian Traction, and International Nickel do not reflect sustained demand from Canadian investors and Massey-Harris closed yesterday at 36½, compared with 37 a week ago. Nickel is now selling at 37½, or at approximately the same level as a week ago, while Brazilian Traction, which announced lower earnings for the first time in many months, is being traded around the same prices as a week ago. Ford of Canada "A" is lower, however, at 20 against 21 last week, and British American Oil has dropped from 40 to 37½, after touching a new 1930 low at 35½.

Power Stocks, including Shawinigan, Power Corporation, Montreal Power and Canada Power and Paper were subjected to profit-taking following their recent advances, and losses also occurred in paying issues which previously advanced under buying stimulated by news of mergers in the building industry.

Dull conditions and light buying interest were features of trading on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange and prices were generally lower during the week's trading. Old issues were inclined to resist liquidation, but base metal shares, including the Lindsey issues, Hudson Bay, and International Nickel, all followed a downward trend. Noranda closed at $29 yesterday and other copper stocks followed the generally easier tendency. Oils, both high and low priced, were subject to the depression of the industrial market and International Petroleum, Imperial Oil, and others failed to make headway toward higher levels.

Boston Bruins In Another Record-breaking Performance

THE SPORTS MIRROR

JIMMY McLARNIN, ring sensation from Vancouver, and Sammy Mandell, holder of the lightweight title, fight in Chicago next week. Although the fight is not for the lightweight title it will no doubt be a ripper. Mandell is a beautiful boxer; a master; not a slugger. He is not a Benny Leonard or a Joe Gans. But he gives the spectators an eye-filling every time out. Fast as a streak, bold when he is hurt, always trying. As for cleverness, he has a decision over Jackie Fields, who is as clever as they come. Mandell beat McLarnin by a decision in fifteen rounds in New York in 1928. Undaunted, Jimmy waited for twelve months and last year he met Sammy again and gave him a terrible licking, but Mandell's title was not at stake. The fight next week will be the "rubber."

No doubt the U.S. boxing commissions will soon take notice of the outstanding case of Primo Carnera. The Italian giant has been matched with a lot of dub fighters who have been selected apparently with the idea of giving the Primo a quick knock-out record. If Carnera is any good at all—and a powerful man of his size must have some fighting qualities—it is an outrage to let him be matched against opponents who never did show any fighting ability. The dubs are either scared into taking a dive whenever Carnera waves his hands, or they are so weak hearted that they give up after being bumped by him once or twice. Carnera should be matched against some of the heavyweights who at least have some trace of class. What a relief it will be, one of these days, when some new Jack Dempsey pops up, a fellow with two fighting hands and the heart to use them.

"I'm standing pat on my 1929 batting order," says Joe, "for the opening games of the 1930 season," says Joe McCarthy, boss of the Chicago Cubs. The Bruin pilot is pretty well satisfied with the aggregation that brought Chicago to the National League pennant since 1918.

"English is to get the lead-off assignment again," says Joe, "for Cuyler, Hornsby, Wilson, Stephenson and Grimm following in that order. I'm putting Lester Bell, our new third baseman, in the fourth position, where McCullin batted last summer. Bell is a dangerous hitter who puts distance in his drives. We'll score more runs, he'll furnish the punch to score Wilson, Stephenson and Grimm."

"Everybody knows Gabby Hartnett is one of the best catchers in the game when he is right. He went through a series of operations to remedy the trouble that developed in his throwing arm, and a severe test revealed that it is as strong as ever. I'm confident Gabby will bring his hitting back to his usual stride now that his throwing ailment is gone."

"Bell was a star on the championship St. Louis Cards that Hornsby managed, and the reason why he shouldn't be with us. The spirit with which the gang signed up this year pleases me probably as much as anything else. The reason for this is that the veteran of the team will participate in but few more major league drives. The reason is that he will be forty in April, and according to his own words, has experienced practically every thrill in baseball there is to experience."

"After all, why should I prolong my baseball career?" questioned Sam. "I'm on the down-grade and I know it." Regardless of his statement that he is slipping, Rice maintained a batting average of .323 last season, the highest average on the Washington club, and his record is as good as anything else in baseball history. Although the 1930 campaign may go to the last for Sam Rice, Washington Senators' outfielder, it is safe to predict that the veteran of the team will participate in but few more major league drives. The reason is that he will be forty in April, and according to his own words, has experienced practically every thrill in baseball there is to experience."

"My batting," said Rice, "Oh, I can still smack the ball with my feeling right. Hitting apparently is a kind of second nature to a fellow. And as for American League pitching, it just suits me. It seems to be a left league and that's what I like. Lefty Grove's my cousin. You know I can't nick Lefty for a couple of hits. I think there's something wrong somewhere."

Sam admitted that Rube Walberg, Grove's teammate, was the most difficult pitcher in the circuit for him to hit.

"I've always counted fielding as important for an outfielder as hitting," Sam returned. "A slugging team that is wide open is no pennant prospect. A major league outfielder can't afford to have any pronounced weaknesses. He's got to be pretty good at everything."

Sam has stretched back into the bleachers to rob batters of home runs. He has gone tumbling almost into the infield on shoe-string catches. He has known sore arms, sprained ankles and charley-horses. Es has been beaten. "There's satisfaction in hitting 350," Sam remarked. "I've done it. Several times I've made 200 hits in a season and scored 100 or more runs in a campaign. I was on two pennant winners, one of which won a world's series. Yeh, I guess I've had about all that's coming to me."

Defeat Rangers To Hang Up New Total Point Mark

Stage Thrilling Last-minute Rally to Score 3-2 Victory Over Lester Patrick's Club; Rangers Have Not Beaten Bruins Since 1928; Boston Have Point Total of Sixty-five, to Beat Best Previous Mark by One; Detroit Turns Back Chicago 2-1 in Hard-fought Battle

Canadian Press

New York, Feb. 24.—The New York Rangers, one of the greatest groups of scrappers in the National Hockey League, have failed to break the winning streak of the Boston Bruins. Hence Boston has another National Hockey League record to its credit and the Rangers are still on the verge of dropping into a tie with Chicago for second place in the league's American group. Boston made a great last-minute rally yesterday evening, to nose out the Rangers 3-2, to bring their point total for the season to sixty-five, one more than the best previous league mark for a season. In the 1925-26 campaign, the Ottawa Senators ran up sixty-four points with thirty victories and four ties.

So far this season, Boston has won thirty-two games and tied one, losing but four. The one tie is the only mark against the present Bruin streak of thirteen games without a defeat. Before meeting the Rangers, the Bruins downed the rugged Montreal Maroons last week by the same score.

RANGERS STILL SECOND
The Rangers, although defeated twice last week, going down before Toronto 5-1 before they encountered Boston, held second place by a two-point margin over Chicago. The Black Hawks dropped three straight encounters, a win in each of which would have brought a tie. They lost an overtime game to the New York Americans 6-4, succumbed to Ottawa 2-1 and yesterday evening lost their fourth successive game, bowing to Detroit by a 2-1 count. Detroit made the difference between third and fourth place in the division on the last night of the season, winning 3-1 by winning last evening's game, after losing an earlier encounter to the Canadiens of Montreal, 2-0. The last place Pittsburgh Pirates lost three straight.

In the Canadian group Montreal's two teams, the Maroons and the Canadiens, held the top positions, four points apiece. The Maroons lost to Boston but beat out the Americans, 3-2, and Pittsburgh 5-4. The Canadiens beat Detroit and Saturday trounced the Americans by 9-2. Ottawa's Senators crept up the scale by adding three more games to their record, winning 3-1, 3-0 and 3-1, nine without a loss. They beat Pittsburgh 3-2, Chicago 5-2, then Saturday they nosed out Toronto 1-0, to tie the seventh-place Detroit.

The Bruins put on another of their great last-minute rallies yesterday evening to take one more National Hockey League title from the New York Rangers by a 3-2 score. The Rangers still are seeking their first victory over the Bruins since 1928. After scrapping furiously through two periods and falling behind in the third, the Bruins scored twice in the last half of the final frame, netting the winning goal with only a minute and ten seconds to go.

The lineups:
Rangers—Stoch, Bourgeois, Taylor, Boucher, W. Cook and F. Cook.
Boston—C. Thompson, Shore, Hitchman, Barry, Oliver and Galt.
Referee—F. Thompson.
Referee—Keeling, Vall, Goldsworthy, Queniville and Reize.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Boston, Shore (Clapper), 5:03; 2, Rangers, Boucher (F. Cook), 5:51.
Second period—No score.
Third period—3, Rangers, Keeling (Murdoch), 8:07; 4, Boston, Barry, 4:29; 5, Boston, Owen (Clapper), 6:14.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 24.—A goal awarded because of a thrown stick, a fast fight between Harvey Rockburn and Frank Ingram, along with other things not strictly hockey, were accomplished yesterday evening as Detroit gave Chicago its fourth straight National League defeat, 2-1.

Rangers' sub-Edgar late in the final period, Rockburn, Cougar defence man, manoeuvred into shooting position and was awarded the winning goal when Graham of the Hawks tossed his stick.

The lineups:
Detroit—Beveridge, Noble, Rockburn, Goodfellow, McCabe and Cooper.
Chicago—Graham, Graham, Wentworth, Somers, Arbour and Couture.

Steadiness Brings Lineham Victory In Tourney Final

Defeats Clarence Brynjolfson One Up in Thirty-six-hole Final of Empress Midwinter Tournament; Stylin on Home Hole Ruins Brynjolfson's Chances of Victory; Young Uplands Star Erratic on Tee and With Iron Shots; Chief Justice Macdonald Presents Prizes

Laying his opponent a dead stymie on the thirty-sixth hole, forcing him to take a half, Harold Lineham defeated Clarence "Skink" Brynjolfson one up in the final of the Empress midwinter golf championship at the Colwood Golf Club Saturday. The Colwood member gains possession of the handsome E. W. Beatty Cup, won last year by T. L. Swan, of the Victoria Golf Club.

The final was a thrilling one, with the players finishing all square at the end of the first eighteen, Brynjolfson making a remarkable comeback after being two down at the end of the first nine. Again in the afternoon Lineham enjoyed a two-hole lead over the Uplands star at the turn, which he increased to three at the twenty-eighth, but Brynjolfson cut the lead to one up but lost out at the home hole. Lineham was forced to give his opponent four strokes on each round. The match was refereed by Alex. Rose, of Seattle, and drew a large following.

Following the final the prizes were presented by Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald, who complimented the C.P.R. on the manner in which the tournament was conducted. He also praised the Colwood Golf Club on the fine condition of the course. N. R. Desjardis, general passenger agent of the C.P.R. for B.C., replied on behalf of the C.P.R.

LINEHAM STEADY
Lineham owes his victory to his steadiness. It was always straight off the tee, while Brynjolfson was inclined to hook at times. The new champion was also steady in his approach, while he seldom three-putted a hole. Brynjolfson was also good on the green, but he dubbed a number of his iron shots to get himself into a lot of trouble. With the exception of the last couple of holes, Lineham used an iron on his second shot instead of the usual brassie, but on the last two he dug out his brassie and got long shots to the green.

THE LINEUPS:
Maple Leaf—Chabot, Day, Horner, Primeau, Conacher and Jackson.
Ottawa—Connell, Clancy, Alex. Smith, Lamb, H. Kirens and Finnegan.
Maple Leaf subs—Blair, Bailey, Cotton, Pettigrew, Nighbor, Dixon and Art Smith.
Ottawa subs—Shields, Gagne, Cox, Touhey, Starr, Hutton and Howe.
Officials—Bobby Hewitson and Odie Cleghorn.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Ottawa, Finnegan, 13:38.
Second period—No score.
Third period—No score.

English Heavyweight Improves His Footwork and Punching; Timing of Sharkey's Punches Fails to Impress Spectators; 10,000 Visitors Arrive at Palm Beach; Frank J. Bruen, Manager of Madison Square Garden, Announces Advance Seat Sale at $162,000

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Writer

Miami, Fla., Feb. 24.—With Sunday pleasure seekers taking an interest in the proceedings, the fight camps started brisk workouts yesterday, along the Miami fronts. Several thousand watched both Jack Sharkey and Phil Scott, the principals, go through their paces while the Argentine giant, Victorio Campolo, continued to demonstrate his popularity despite the fact he confined himself to exercise without boxing on the grounds of the University of Miami.

GOLDEN PRINCE UNSOLD
Meanwhile Frank J. Bruen, general manager of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, checked up the box office situation and made the definite announcement that the advance sale stood at $162,000, only half of this, approximately $80,000, represented by cash sales, but Bruen declared the other half was represented by order and reservations he considered as good as cash.
This was the first statement Bruen had made regarding the sale in a week and was prompted by a variety of reports, all indicating a marked lack of box office business. A week ago, the figure was put at $163,000, but this, Bruen explained, was based on some optimistic reports from outside sources which failed to materialize when checked up. It is understood a number of promoters for block booking were cancelled, but Bruen said he regarded the situation now as much more promising than a few days ago.

No Large Bids Received For Coffroth Winner and Owners Buy Gelding In Sidney Grant Also Fails to Find Purchaser; Seek to Break Partnership

San Diego, Calif., Feb. 21.—Golden Prince, winner of the 1929 Coffroth handicap, and one of the ranking favorites of the Agua Caliente handicap of March 23, still munches his oats in the barn of Harry Unna and Abe Bartelstein.

The highly regarded six-year-old Golden Prince gelding was offered for sale at auction yesterday along with Sidney Grant, three-year-old, and seven other horses. The announced purpose was to close out the partnership of Bartelstein and Unna. However, no large bids were received on the horses and Bartelstein, who it was disclosed, was acting for the owners, let Golden Prince and Sidney Grant to Harry Unna and Abe Bartelstein for $12,000 and $20,000 for Sidney Grant.

SEVERAL BIDS
Baron Long and several others bid on Golden Prince until the figure went close to $80,000, and then dropped out. Bids for Sidney Grant went to $15,000. Unna bid in the three-year-old filly, Horetiz, himself, and Bartelstein led away the mare, Mollie Dear, for $600. The Ors were sold to A. Sams for $1,100 and C. Rothwell led away Meyer Gold on his bid of $1,100. Renown, Hiram, and others were not bid for. Golden Prince did not run yesterday, but Sidney Grant came out for the George Washington handicap. It was announced from the judges' stand that he was running in Unna's interests.

It is understood that Unna favors leaving the horses at Agua Caliente in view of the fact that he did not realize the prices he expected in the sale.

Polo Player Is Badly Injured

The Pampas horses won yesterday's game easily, 8 to 5.

Davie Miller Is Given Suspension For Wrong Count
Chicago, Feb. 24.—Davie Miller, veteran Chicago boxing referee, has been indefinitely suspended by the Illinois State Athletic Commission for failure to explain his scoring of the Leo Lomaki-Jimmy Braddock bout at the Coliseum January 17.

The bout first was declared a draw. Miller's card deciding the issue when one judge voted for Lomaki and the other cast his ballot for Braddock. Eleven days after the fight a checkup was made and it was learned that Miller's card, properly totalled, favored Lomaki, and the commission declared the Aberdeen, Wash., boxer, the winner.

Forward Pass Ousted From Canadian Rugby

Decision of Rules Committee Shock To Western Heads

New Play Introduced Last Season Will Be Eliminated From Playing Code; Prairie Officials Declare Ruling Will Seriously Affect Popularity of Game in Western Canada; Unions May Use Forward Pass by First Gaining Permission of C.R.U.

Canadian Press

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 24.—Following a thorough study of the play as it affects the Canadian game, the rules committee of the Canadian Rugby Union announced at the annual meeting of the C.R.U. here Saturday that the forward pass had been ousted entirely from Canadian football.

The decision came like a bolt from the blue. Friday the commission held its annual meeting, but no mention was made of the play.

Practically all members of the rules committee were present when S. C. Holland, acting in the absence of President Dr. R. W. Bow, Edmonton, called the meeting to order. Mr. Holland, who is chairman of the rules committee, in his report to the C.R.U. said it had been decided to eliminate the forward pass and revert to the rules as they were prior to last year, with minor changes being made.

The chairman said the members of the commission had felt it was the most important decision they ever had to make, realizing they might be criticized, and were ready to take such criticism. They had studied the play throughout last season and decided it was simply a case now of putting it into the rules for good or leaving it out for good.

When queried Saturday night regarding reports that unions in Western Canada may use the forward pass next fall, regardless of the C.R.U.'s decision, Mr. Holland said that any individual union desiring to use the pass could do so upon request to the commission and permission being secured.

Harold Bailey, secretary of the O.R.F.U., said Saturday night that body would make no decision regarding the C.R.U. ruling until their body met in March.

B.C. WANTS TO AFFILIATE
A letter was read from British Columbia Union asking for information concerning affiliation with the parent body, but as no official application was received, the matter was tabled pending further news from the West.

The report of the treasurer, R. W. Hewitson, Toronto, showed a balance on hand of $1,527.

At the election of officers, John De Gruchy, of Toronto, was chosen president, and Dr. R. W. Bow, Edmonton, was elected honorary president. Professor W. P. Wilgar, Kingston, was one of the vice-presidents elected, as was T. Hicks Miller, Montreal. R. W. Hewitson, Toronto, was re-elected secretary.

The rules committee comprises the following: John De Gruchy, Toronto, chairman; Laddie Cassels, Toronto; Dave McCann, Ottawa; Stuart Forbes, Montreal; R. P. Webster, Hamilton, and Reg. DeGruchy, Toronto.

An application from the Western Canadian Intercollegiate Union was accepted by the executive, making its affiliated bodies now comprising the C.R.U.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 24.—Western Canadian Rugby will be drawn just a little further out of range of the Canadian Rugby Union with the latter's decision Saturday at Toronto to eliminate the forward pass from the Canadian game, in the opinion of Dr. Walter A. Miller, past president of the Western Canada Rugby Union. One season's trial of the modified outside pass has convinced the west that they want the play to stay.

"It is unheard of that the Canadian Union should abolish the forward pass," Dr. Miller declared. "I consider that it was a great success in the west; players and spectators were enthusiastic alike." Greater interest in rugby was taken in prairie cities than for years, he added.

Action of the Canadian body came as a complete surprise. "We fully expected that the forward pass would be adopted by the union and used next season in the interprovincial, intercollegiate and Ontario unions. We needed a few points generally cleared

DOCKERS WIN OVER C'S IN PROVINCE CUP

Lucky Goal Gives Esquimaux 2-1 Victory; Will Now Meet St. Andrew's

Victoria Wests Defeat Thistles 5-1 to Take Lead in Combination Cup

Foster's cross, which bounced into the net off "Scotty" Stewart's chest, gave Esquimaux a 2-1 victory over the Five C's in the Province Cup soccer game played at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon. The Dockers will now meet the crack St. Andrew's eleven in the next round of this competition.

The Five C's started the game with only seven men, and their opponents went on the offensive. For eight minutes the redshirts held Esquimaux, but eventually Jimmy Hay, skipper of the winning side, took a pass from Pagan and scored. Immediately after this counter, Burgess, Bundock, Quinn and Lindsay arrived to bring the Five C's up to full strength. With the wind at their backs they forced the Dockers back into defensive territory and De Costa pulled off some pretty saves.

Lindsay was right through when Sweeney missed the ball in attempting to clear, but Esquimaux's net custodian turned his shot aside, giving a corner.

Amateur Union Heads Say They Can Do Nothing For Former Lacrosse Players

Vancouver, Feb. 24.—While giving the lacrosse delegation, which pleaded the cases of a number of Vancouver professionals seeking reinstatement after having been out of the game over six years, a sympathetic hearing, the British Columbia branch of the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada at its semi-annual meeting Saturday night through Norman McDonald, president, held it could do nothing for the banned athletes.

"If we had the authority here we would reinstate every one of them to-night," declared the president. "My advice is that applications be made out properly and submitted to the secretary thirty days before the annual meeting of the Canadian body in November. I believe there should be little trouble in having these players reinstated."

The resignation of Andy Gard as secretary was placed before the meeting. The president explained that the secretary had decided he had not the time to give to the work of the office. Mr. Gard stated this was the case.

J. A. Courtney moved that George Winter be appointed secretary pro tem, and to carry on until the annual meeting in November. Mr. Winter agreed to take the office only on condition that he be allowed to relinquish it in November. There was a suggestion by Stan Smith that Winter act as the secretary's assistant, but John Muter thought this unfair to Winter.

The resignation of Andy Gard as secretary was placed before the meeting. The president explained that the secretary had decided he had not the time to give to the work of the office. Mr. Gard stated this was the case.

J. A. Courtney moved that George Winter be appointed secretary pro tem, and to carry on until the annual meeting in November. Mr. Winter agreed to take the office only on condition that he be allowed to relinquish it in November. There was a suggestion by Stan Smith that Winter act as the secretary's assistant, but John Muter thought this unfair to Winter.

Farrell Brothers Hold Sarazan And Smith All Square

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 24.—Horton Smith of Detroit, who Saturday won the Savannah open golf tournament, paired with Gene Sarazan, recent winner of the $15,000 Agua Caliente open, were held to a tie yesterday by the Farrell brothers, Jimmy and Johnny, in an exhibition match, which ended all even.

Smith carded a 76 to win the $50 prize posted for the best medal score. Jimmy Farrell took a 71, which is even par for the course. Sarazan took 71 and Johnny, the former United States open champion, went down for a 73.

BAPTISTS IN FINE VICTORY OVER LEADERS

Again in Tie For First Place in Badminton League By Win Over Saanich

Garrison Defeat Willows in First Division; Y.M.C.A. Win Over J.B.A.A.

Four fixtures were played on Saturday night in the Lower Island Badminton League. The Garrison's first team administered 12-6 beating to the Willows first team while in the most important game of the evening Emmanuel Baptists division by winning from the North Saanich club by a 9-7 score.

The two clubs are now tied with two losses, and both have tied one. In the other matches the Garrison kept in the running by defeating the Fairfield club by 13-3. In the other fixture the Y.M.C.A. chalked up a win over the J.B.A.A. by the same score.

While Duncan is virtually assured of first place in the first division, the Garrison heads on to second place by decisively winning over the Willows. The Garrison have six wins, and four defeats.

At the Armories, the Garrison obtained a lead by winning two of the three men's doubles, the feature of which was the win of Drennan Hinkes and Hugo Raymond over Paul and Peter Phillips in three bitter sets. Mrs. McDonald and Miss Lawson scored a fine win over Mrs. Gibson and Miss Porritt in three sets to give the Willows two of the three women's doubles.

The Garrison put the game on ice by winning nine of the twelve mixed doubles. Four three-set matches were witnessed in this series.

At the scene of the Baptist-Saanich encounter the stage was set for great excitement as the game was equally important to both clubs concerned. North Saanich after enjoying a lead for the best part of the season will have to pull through one or two tight matches to finish on top. By winning Saturday's event they could have practically clinched the title by tying or winning from the Garrison on Wednesday next.

The Baptist men set a good example by winning two of the three doubles in their division. North Saanich women won two of the four doubles. Emmanuel Baptists settled all doubt as to the outcome by winning four of the eight mixed doubles.

Garrison was in good form to defeat the Fairfield club by such a wide margin as the churchmen have turned in some good games. Despite the score the matches were well contested, and the advantage of playing at home.

MY DANDY IS WINNER OF RICH STAKE

Takes Lead at First Turn and Is Never Headed in Washington Handicap

Scimitar Second and Negopoli Third in $6,000 Event at Agua Caliente

Agua Caliente, Mex., Feb. 24.—My Dandy, bearing the colors of W. C. and E. W. Heichert, took the lead at the first turn and never was headed in the Washington Birthday Handicap $6,000 added stake here yesterday. Scimitar, running for the Agua Caliente stable, finished a head behind My Dandy for second money, with John Cochrane's Negopoli close third.

The track was fast, despite heavy rains Saturday night, the time for the mile and one-sixteenth, 1:44 4-5, being two-fifths of a second over the track record.

Jockey C. E. Allen took My Dandy to the front at the turn and made the pace for the remainder of the distance. He was closely pressed Time, 1:47, by Scimitar, but managed to hold him safe to the finish. Jim Dandy, hope of the Willshire stable, threw his rider soon after the start and was disqualified. The others never were dangerous.

MANY SCRATCHES
Nine went to the post. The overnight field included fourteen, but Dark Sea, Daily Beam Wisdom, Golden Prince and Nalshapur were scratched.

Mutuel prices on the winner were $12.40 to win, $7.40 to place, and $5 to show. Scimitar paid $12.60 and $6. Negopoli rewarded show ticket holders at the rate of $8 for $2 ticket.

HEAVYWEIGHTS IN SPOTLIGHT

Scott, Sharkey, Sandwina, Bertazzolo and Carnera Fighting This Week

New York, Feb. 24.—The second annual battle of the Palms at Miami Thursday night with Phil Scott of England meeting Jack Sharkey in the feature bout heads the flat schedule for the week, but there is no lack of attractions in other cities.

Heavyweights, for the most part, will furnish the fireworks, but Chicago will see a third battle between Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, and Jimmy McLarnin at the Stadium Saturday night. This bout, a rubber affair, will be at 145 pounds and for ten rounds. Mandell turned back McLarnin's challenge for the lightweight title here two years ago, but suffered a bad beating at the hands of the Vancouver slugger in a return meeting at catch weights several months ago at Chicago.

LOCAL HOOP TEAMS LOSE TO DUNCAN

Red Birds Are Only Team Able to Win Up-Island in Island Finals

Return Games Here To-morrow Night; I.B.A.A. Win Two From Nanaimo

Of the eleven hoop games which Victoria teams participated in over the week-end, the locals were only able to win four. West Road was a great stumbling block to the Victoria fives as the College dropped all three games there.

Victoria teams who journeyed to Duncan on Saturday night for the first games in the Lower Island finals were only able to take one game out of three. The Red Birds were the only visiting quintette to win and they just managed to nose out the Duncan women, coming out on the long end of a 23-21 score. The Duncan men gained a twelve-point lead in the championship series, which is decided on home and home games, when they handed the Y.M.C.A. a 33-21 setback.

The Shell Oil junior boys' team from Duncan nosed out the Victoria Royals 24-20, but the Victoria lads are confident that they will be able to reverse the decision here Tuesday night.

Local Grass Hockey Team Gains 3-2 Win Over Up-Islanders

Victoria grass hockey representatives weathered the storm let loose by the Up-Island eleven in the second half of the game played at Oak Bay Park on Saturday and came through with a 3-2 victory over their opponents.

Hodgson scored twice in the first period, while Winsky added the deciding counter just before the rest interval.

Early in the second half, Dermott O'Connell scored the visitors' opening tally, which was followed closely by another marker from Dobell's stick.

Victoria had a decided edge in the opening half, but were forced to the limit to maintain the lead in the second period when the Up-Islanders let loose a series of savage onslaughts.

Alf Engen Wins Ski Tournament

Tahoe, Cal., Feb. 24.—Alf Engen, youthful Norwegian wearing the colors of the Snowflake Ski Club of Westby, Wis., won the California first annual national ski tournament here yesterday, registering a total of 312 feet for the two official jumps.

Although his tournament jumps were of 185 and 199 feet each, Engen thrilled the crowd in a later exhibition with a leap of 195 feet. Snow had fallen heavily throughout the night, making trackdown slow.

Andre Haugen, former Olympic games star and seven times American champion, had the longest jump of the tournament, but failed to finish among the leaders. His jump was 160 feet.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24.—Traditional rivalry between Detroit Olympic and the Windsor Bulldogs fought a hectic 3-3 overtime International League hockey game here yesterday.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 24.—The Boston Tigers defeated the New Haven Eagles, 5 to 3, here yesterday evening in a Canadian-American Hockey League game.

PARACHUTE JUMP FATAL TO FIGHTER

"Dummy" Mahan Plunges to Death in Attempt to Regain His Hearing

Disregards Instructions and Pulls Rip Cord as He Steps Off Wing

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—Fred "Dummy" Mahan, nationally prominent waterweight boxer from Tombstone, Ariz., plunged to his death here yesterday in a 3,000-foot parachute jump from an airplane.

Mahan made the jump in an effort to regain his hearing. He had been deaf since he was eight months old.

A crowd of several thousand persons watched horror-stricken as he catapulted through the air from the clouds. Only the pilot parachute opened as he fell from a plane piloted by Col. Harry Abbott, the aviator inventor of the new type parachute which Mahan was using.

Mahan had been planning the jump for several months, over the protest of his manager, Fred Hagen. Mahan previously arranged an acroplane dive in Los Angeles, by which he had hoped to regain his hearing, but the attempt was unsuccessful.

Windor attempted to dissuade Mahan from making the jump only a moment before the plane took off with him as a passenger, but he refused to heed his manager's warning. Meanwhile the crowd cheered.

Col. Abbott said he wrote out careful instructions instructing Mahan to count six before pulling the rip cord. He apparently disregarded the directions and jerked the cord as he stepped off the wing, the flyer said.

Mahan, whose real name was Frederick Mess, is survived by his stepfather, William Mahan, and his mother of Brackettville, Texas.

the qui vive every second. Each new situation is a surprise situation, an unexpected plot twist that's hard to guess. There is not a dull moment in the whole show from the time that beautiful Miss Brent sees handsome Clive Brook in Paris and wishes she could know him. They finally meet, and then the real excitement begins. Each has a secret he dreads revealing to the other.

Author and director have built up a clever suspense angle throughout the story. And yet "Slightly Scarlet" is not a mystery story. It is romance, adventurous romance, in every sense. The tenseness of its situations makes for unusual suspense, however.

LAUGHABLE FARCE AT THE ROYAL

"The Rotters" Is Sixth Presentation By McLeod Players

James McLeod Has Important Role in Latest Production

The Gordon McLeod Players open their sixth week at the Royal Victoria to-night with a comedy entitled "The Rotters." This is a play which was a great success in London a few years ago. Written by H. F. Maltby, one of the most brilliant writers of comedy, it gives a most amusing picture of life in a Lancashire town, and of a family who like to be thought respectable but who fail to be so. From the father and mother downwards each member of the family gets into difficulties which are most laughably shown and cleverly played by this company.

James McLeod as John Clugston gives a masterly and most humorous

MOVIE STARS GREET PREMIER'S SON

Surrounded by a bevy of movie-land's notables, Alastair G. MacDonald, son of the British Premier, is pictured above as he arrived in Hollywood to study the construction of sound studios. performance of the smug and proud old Lancashire man, whose wife and children give him no much trouble by their various lapses from respectability, and who himself gets into a tangle. Lillian Christie again shows her versatility with a clever portrayal of a Lancashire girl, and Margaret St. Barbe-West, as her sister, gives another of her charming performances. Claude Bailey has an important role as a gentleman chauffeur. Roland Gillet plays one of those boy parts for which he is becoming so well known. Maude Blay, Ann Farrer, and Harcourt Aubrey make up a strong cast.

This is said to be one of the best comedies presented by this company.

Plot Centres On Unusual Election In Variety Comedy

Candidate's Nephew Named Mayor Through Use of Slogan in "Gerry"

To awaken from a bout of intense drinking to find himself elected mayor of the city of Lisbon is the extraordinary fate that befalls Gerald Brandon, attractive young ne'er-do-well, in the comedy-drama, "Gerry," which the Toby Leitch Players present at the Variety Theatre this week.

Gerald, a popular young scamp with a tendency to inebriation, was not a candidate for election, but his uncle, Jerrold Brandon, was. The latter, however, is most unpopular with the citizenry. The voters decide to circumvent the work of the political machine which would "railroad" Jerrold Brandon into the office and the slogan is raised, "Spell it with a 'G.'" The ballots are marked "Gerald" and not "Jerrold" Brandon with the result that Gerald is elected by an overwhelming vote. The election is legalized and Gerry accepts the post.

But what is started as a joke soon becomes very grim reality for the evildoers in the city of Lisbon, for Gerry, under the influence of his love for Molly Bayne, renounces his love of liquor and begins a campaign to free the city of the underworld element.

Out of this situation grows a plot of absorbing interest with many thrills and much hilarious laughter. The story develops in a veritable gale of laughter. Raymond Toby Leitch is cast in one of those rustic parts which he created, and in which he is so popular. As Jimmie Saunders, a loyal friend of Gerry, even in the latter's most drunken days, he is appointed a policeman and becomes a trusted lieutenant of the mayor in his work of driving out the criminal element. Toby's brilliant comedy is seen at its best in this amusing role.

"Broadway Scandals" Featured Film On Playhouse Screen

Sally O'Neil, Pretty Star, Has Leading Role

The ability to judge the worth of an untried actor is rare. In fact it is so rare that such men as David Belasco, Florence Zeigfeld, Mack Sennett and a few others who possess it are accounted wizards in the theatrical world.

According to many, Harry Cohn, vice-president in charge of production of Columbia Pictures Corporation, possesses this ability to pick winners in no uncertain degree. His reaction to Sally O'Neil the first time he saw her is a typical example of his insight. Miss O'Neil, who plays the leading female role in "Broadway Scandals," the Columbia all-talking, singing, dancing musical comedy sensation playing at the Playhouse Theatre, told a story that is just one of the many proof of the above opinion.

DEATH CAUSES P.E.I. VACANCY IN THE SENATE

Canadian Press.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—The death of Senator B. C. Prowse in Charlottetown Saturday increased the number of vacancies in the Senate to five. Besides that in Prince Edward Island there is one vacancy in Ontario and three in Quebec.

Hon. Benjamin Charles Prowse had been a member of the Senate for nearly nineteen years, having been summoned to that body May 3, 1911. He was born in Charlottetown, December 10, 1862. He was educated at the public schools of Charlottetown, and married Miss Amanda Maud Miller, June 30, 1888. Mr. Prowse was well known as a merchant. For a number of years he was president of Prowse Brothers Limited.

In 1904 he entered public life as a councillor of the City of Charlottetown. He was re-elected in 1908, 1910 and 1917. In 1908 he was elected mayor and held the post until 1910. The following year he was called to the Senate by the Laurier Government.

A dispatch from Charlottetown yesterday said that his son, George, L. Prowse, hurried from Boston, Mass., by aeroplane, to attend the funeral of his father, but reached the bedside too late.

Jetta Goudal In Important Role At Columbia Theatre

"Lady of Pavements," D. W. Griffith's Production, Plays This Week

Jetta Goudal, who appears with William Boyd and Lupe Velez in D. W. Griffith's "Lady of the Pavements," at the Columbia Theatre, firmly believes the average woman should be married by the time she is eighteen. "In youth," says the star, "love is spontaneous," asking no whys or wherefores, existing for itself alone. That is the stuff of which happy marriages are made. Later a certain cynicism is sure to develop and love is apt to be diluted with monetary and social considerations. She who hesitates cannot really be in love. And she who marries at eighteen seldom hesitates.

THRILLING DRAMA AT DOMINION

Cecil B. DeMille Makes His Bow in Talkies With
"Dynamite"

Conrad Nagel and Kay Johnson
in Leading Roles

Spectacular and thrilling, Cecil B. DeMille's first talking production, "Dynamite," now at the Dominion Theatre, allows this super-director to take one of the biggest bows of his career, and provides screen patrons with a production that should keep all of them talking for many weeks after seeing it.

Scintillating society panoramas are blended into an enthralling dramatic situation in which a coal miner and his rival for the hand of a society girl face death together, a thousand feet below the earth.

Before going far with a review one must praise wholeheartedly the exceptional work of Conrad Nagel as a young society gadabout, Kay Johnson, Broadway stage star, as a girl of high social position and Charles Hickford as Hagen Derk, the miner. It is difficult to say which of these players gives the best characterization, but sufficient to remark that each one helps make "Dynamite" rank several miles ahead of the average screen release.

The fine cast of the picture also includes Julia Faye, who has been seen in many other DeMille photoplays, Robert Edeson, Scott Kolk, Leslie Fenton and Joel McCrea.

Annual Dinner of B.C. Institute of Journalists Held
Saturday at Vancouver

Vancouver, Feb. 24.—Vancouver's newspaper folk held carnival Saturday night in the oak room, Hotel Vancouver, when the local branch of the B.C. Institute of Journalists held its annual dinner.

Honor guests of the evening were the publishers of Vancouver and New Westminster daily papers. Other guests included Mayor W. H. Malin, J. O. Macgillivray, Canadian trade commissioner to Rotterdam, Holland, and Mrs. Macgillivray, also representatives of the Victoria branch of the institute.

PRESENTATION
As 1929 president of the institute here and first president of the recently completed provincial organization, H. A. Stein was presented with a beautiful silver tray.

J. Edward Norcross was given a gold pencil in appreciation of his work in drafting a constitution and by-laws.

SPEECHES AND SONGS
Witty speeches and songs, concluding with a one-act farce-comedy, constituted the programme which followed dinner and which was presided over by Noel Robinson, the new president of the institute. Dancing concluded the evening.

Taking advantage of the presence of Victoria branch officials, the provincial institute executive held its first meeting Saturday night, following the dinner and entertainment.

MARRIAGE BROKEN

Here is the former Princess Xenia of Russia whose marriage to William R. Leeds, son of the "Tin Plate King," has ended in the divorce court, shown in her latest photo, taken at Palm Beach. The wedding of the Russian princess and the wealthy young American took place in Paris eight years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Leeds have maintained a residence at Oyster Bay, L.I., where they lived in the ornate establishment built for his mother, who married Prince Christopher of Greece and Denmark.

N. E. W. S.

THE EARLIEST NEWSPAPER always printed a sign at the top of the first page of every issue depicting the points of the compass. The letter N, for North was placed at the top. Below it appeared a "plus" sign. At the right, E, for East. At the left, W, for West, while below the letter S indicated South. Later the "plus" sign was dropped and the letters "N.E.W.S." appeared, implying that the information printed came from the four corners of the globe. And so we got the word "News," meaning the very latest information on any subject.

The advertising columns are "News" as much as the editorial columns. Advertising is packed with news. News of the latest styles, of a new food, of an improved household utensil, of a powerful and low-priced automobile, of trips to Europe and all parts of the world—and so on. Advertising has become "news," and people depend on advertisements for accurate information about things they wish to know.

Reading advertising is a useful and profitable habit. It saves time, by telling you where desired articles may be purchased. It saves money, because advertised merchandise is more dependable as to quality and durability than non-advertised wares. And, advertising is accurate. You can trust the "news" that you read in advertisements. Read them as you do the editorial columns.

Advertising is "news" of the latest and best in merchandise . . . keep posted by reading the advertising columns daily

SAANICH BOARD WITHOUT HEAD

Chairman Tomes Resigns and Trustees Abandon Effort to Agree on School Site

When the Saanich School Board on Saturday evening at the Municipal Hall resolutely refused to approve construction of a high school on the Rock Street Park site offered by the municipal council, Trustee William Tomes resigned the chair, Trustee J. L. Brooks refused to accept a unanimous nomination to the office, and the board adjourned indefinitely in a chorus of recrimination.

All trustees were tendered the office except Trustee Jeanne, who refused to allow his name to go to a vote. Robert Brydon, secretary, was compelled to take the chair temporarily, and was left with the gavel when the trustees seized their coats and hats and hastened from the council chamber.

The meeting was called to receive prices on properties considered suitable as sites for a high school. A tract of nearly six acres on Falmouth Road, owned by Fred Saul, was offered the board for $6,000, and J. W. Rowland agreed that the board could select any part of his large Carey Road acreage at a maximum price of $600 per acre.

REPORT BLOCKADE SOUGHT

Discussion of these sites was of minor interest to a majority of the trustees, whose attention was devoted to vitiating the initiative of the chairman upon acceptance or rejection of a report approving location of the high school on the free Rock Street site. Eventually the report was adopted on motion of Trustee Jeanne, seconded by the chairman, who temporarily vacated the chair in favor of Trustee Fyvie. Trustee Briggs resolutely refused to vote and was counted in support of the motion to accept the report recommending the park site.

FACTION DISUNITED

When Chairman Tomes sought to implement the report, with a definite resolution naming the Rock Street site as the unanimous choice of the board, Trustee Briggs stated that he had refused to vote on the earlier report, but would not consent to the park site. Trustee Jeanne, Fyvie and Brooks then were accorded a fifteen minutes intermission wherein to formulate an alternative site selection on which they could unite, but returned to the council chamber in agreement that they were only prepared to discuss the type of building.

After fruitless efforts to secure attention to the business on the order paper, Trustee Tomes retired from the chair, and the session disbanded. After adjournment it was suggested by some of the retiring trustees that they would respond to a summons to a meeting on Wednesday evening.

SPAIN'S "MEN OF IRON" REVEALED IN ROMANTIC LIGHT BY NEW VOLUME

Arthur Strawn's "Golden Adventures of Balboa," Recently Received at Public Library, Gives Interesting Insight Into Spanish Explorations; Gordon McReagh Describes Abyssinian Expedition; A Glorious Adventure in Theatricals.

"The settlers of Espanola were on the whole a vicious and villainous lot, possessing most of the vices of their times and too few of its virtues. Yet there appeared from among them men who were destined to perform deeds of prodigious valor, and to accomplish feats of courage and endurance of such awful greatness as almost to silence criticism of the evils which accompanied them."

These were the adventures of the early sixteenth century, the "men of iron," the conquerors of Mexico, the conquerors of Peru, and Balboa, captain of the South Sea and discoverer of the Pacific. It is the last-named of these who is told by Arthur Strawn in "The Golden Adventures of Balboa," which is now at the Victoria Public Library. Mr. Strawn discovered that there is a wealth of Spanish accounts of Balboa's voyages, but no complete history in English. He has made a careful study of all historical sources available, and has produced a biography which is an exciting and gripping account of the life of the man who was the first to see the Pacific from the American continent.

A reinterpretation of Plato and Platonism for modern readers is given by Professor Frederick Woodbridge in "Son of Apollo." The book represents, says the author, "the Plato, who, after repeated reading and after a studious attempt to deal with the documents in the case, has caught my imagination." The son of Apollo, and not the founder of the Academy, the artist and not the metaphysician. After discussing the life of Plato and his writings, the author deals with the theme in detail, devoting a chapter to each—politics, education, love and death. For Professor Woodbridge the recurrence of these human themes, and the dramatic rather than systematic treatment of them, constitute the impressive thing in Plato's dialogues.

The book is marked with the scholarship and independent thinking of the author. It is a masterpiece for its dignified, lucid prose, and its mellow humor of expression. It reveals what is actually there for the reader of Plato.

EXPEDITION TO ABYSSINIA

"The Last of Free Africa," by Gordon MacCreagh, is "the account of an expedition into Abyssinia with observations on the manners, customs and traditions of the Ethiopians; with some pungent remarks on the anomalous political situation that at present obtains between this ancient kingdom and the nations of the world." Mr. MacCreagh is a traveler of great insight. He writes informally, but manages to convey a great variety of information, particularly concerning the political and social aspects of the kingdom of Abyssinia, which he compares with those of Europe of the Middle Ages. This is, moreover, a very entertaining book—it is gay and humorous, rich with many anecdotes of caravan travel, big game hunting, and "reveals the character of the natives."

The story of mankind has been told from many angles, but there has always been a tendency to distinguish between, or, rather, a reluctance to assimilate, the study of man and the study of Nature. "Human History," by Grafton Elliot Smith, is a study of man's development from an animal to a civilized being, wherein a wider humanity is emphasized than is found in most surveys of the subject. The author shows what the co-operation of science and the humanities can do for the interpretation of the behavior of living men and women in all its puzzling manifestations. The book is scientific in method; it has been written in a scientific laboratory where the principal device for the study of man is the process of dissection. Dr. Smith has spent a lifetime in original research. As a scientist he is known for his work in anatomy, anthropology, ethnology and Egyptology. Besides the social sciences, he combines here his scientific knowledge with that of the cultural historian, and produces a book that cannot fail to attract the general reader wishing to clarify his ideas on the subject. The work is well and profusely illustrated.

"Seacoast of Bohemia," by Christopher Morley, is the story of four infatuated adventures, namely, the author, Cleon Throckmorton, Conrad Miliken and Harry Wagstaffe Gribble. Readers of Morley will remember these men as distinguished members of the "Three Hours for Lunch Club," "the world's most civilized institution." Over in Hoboken, the seacoast of Bohemia, these adventures rediscovered the old Rio Theatre, a pagan old playhouse, "redolent with the rich showman atmosphere, strong with the color and gaudy make-believe of the stage of fifty years ago." They furnished it, and began stock company productions of new plays and recent Broadway successes. This little book gives an amusing and entertaining account of the old theatre's rediscovery, and some of its history, old and new.

ADULT EDUCATION

Those interested in Dr. Joseph Hart's "Adult Education," a book which was recently reviewed in this column, might care to pursue further the subject of the Danish folk high schools. Dr. Hart has written a description of these, entitled "Light From the North." He spent some time in Denmark studying these schools, which are regarded as the most remarkable movement in adult education in modern Europe. In this small volume the origin and history of the schools are described, and how they have gradually developed, and their present position of influence. The author concludes by pointing out how the system could be adapted to American rural districts.

PENSIONERS SUGGEST HOME ON SEA FRONT

Canadian Pensioners' Association to Move For After-hospital Care

A suggestion that the Dominion Government be asked to construct a home for pensioners convalescing after hospital treatment, and for other needy cases, on public property at Clover Point was discussed by the Victoria branch of the Canadian Pensioners' Association at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, at the club quarters on Figard Street.

The site of the old rifle range at Clover Point would be suitable for this purpose, it was represented. The suggestion will be advanced to the Dominion authorities through the Toronto headquarters of the association. At a general meeting of the local branch, called for Friday evening, discussion is to be given to suggested improvements in the pension law.

The women's auxiliary has been formed, including former nursing sisters and widows whose husbands were killed in action. Mrs. H. Thomas has been appointed temporary president, and Mrs. C. Neve temporary secretary. The auxiliary will meet on Thursday at 8 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mind" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in all the Christian Science churches on Sunday.

"Fulfill ye my joy, that ye may be like-minded, having the same love, the same mind, the same feelings" (Philippians 2:1) was one of the Scriptural texts contained in the lesson-lesson.

Following the reading of the Bible lesson, the services were read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, a passage being the following from page 100: "What the divine precepts are understood, they unfold the foundation of fellowship, in which one mind is not at war with another, but all have one Spirit, God, one intelligent source, in accordance with the Scriptural command: 'Let this Mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus.'" the ball, but missed. Mawhood jumped over and patted it down for a try. The ball failed to get down the ground on the kick for extra point.

TROOPS LOCAL CHAMPS

From the kick-off the Scots went into the oarsmen's ground on a dribble. Godfrey Wenman and Rowland smashed away at the Bays backs, but were unable to break through. Macdonald kicked clear and followed down the attack.

The teams followed up with a dribble and had the Scots on their line. The resulting scrum Mawhood secured and kicked to centre. The Bays followed up with a dribble and had the Scots on their line.

Equal secured and bunted back to midfield. Play then swung from end to end as the back divisions started a kicking without following down.

Just before the rest interval Hume scored and kicked down. Parker fumbled beneath the Scottish posts and Referee Lord called a scrum. The whistle sounded with the Bays still on the attack.

Taking advantage of the wind in the second period, the Scottish held the Bays in their ground with a kicking game. Wenman, Tye, Horne and Kinsman broke away on two good three-quarter runs, but were brought down before they could get across.

The troops were given a free kick when Felt played off-side on Middleton's put. Wenman took the ball and tried a fake kick, but failed to break through.

Turgoo and Horne broke fast at the twenty-five and all but got to the oarsmen's line. Webster cleared with a pretty punt.

FIFTEEN minutes from the start of the half Godfrey Wenman broke through a line-out on the Bays' thirty-five yard line. He moved down and crashed, smashed through Cockin and drew Middleton before passing to Campbell Forbes five yards from the line. Forbes took the ball and crashed through for the troops' first counter.

Wenman's kick for extra points hit the post.

Three minutes later Bruce Forbes started a dribble at the J.B.A.A. twenty-five and kicked ahead. The slippery ball passed through Middleton's arms. Hume dived for it on the line, but missed, and Rowland, following down, scrambled over him to touch it down for the troops' winning try.

Wenman made no mistake with the kick and added two points.

HAYS RALLY

With the score 8-3 against them, the Bays slashed their way to the Scots' end on a series of kick and run plays and dribbles. Several times they came within an ace of getting over, but were forced back on the line.

Campbell Forbes led the Scots on another dangerous dribble, but was stopped by Webster.

As the game closed the Bays were forcing play at the corner of the troops' line.

Harry Lord of Vancouver refereed, and the teams lined up as follows: Canadian Scottish—Parker, Kinsman, Horne, Tye, Oliver, Ray, Stewart, Eagel, Lamb, Panning, Miller, G. Wenman, C. Forbes and Rowland.

J.B.A.A.—Middleton, Alexander, Hume, Webster, Felt, Cockin, F. Parfitt, Macdonald, Warnock, D. Parfitt, Goad, Buller, Moses, Mawhood.

INTERMEDIATES

In the intermediate division, Victoria United, J.B.A.A. and University Scots hung up 15-3, 8-0 and 15-3 victories over the Oak Bay Wanderers, Y.M.C.A. and Canadian Scottish, respectively.

With the wind in their favor in the first half the Scots were not long in taking the lead. The Thistles, right winger for the greenhairs, driving the ball past Willoughby, the Thistles pressed following the goal, but found the Scots' defense too strong to penetrate. The greenhairs' second goal, Youson's corner. Just before half-time, Jack Price netted the Saanich team's lone goal.

SCORE TWO MORE

In the first ten minutes of the second half the Scots added two more goals through Robinson and White. For the remainder of the half the Scots had the edge and just before time Muller scored their fifth goal from a corner kick.

Bad Weather Cuts Cricketers' Profits

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times—London, Feb. 24.—The finances of the Yorkshire County Cricket Club were seriously affected by bad weather last season, says the club's annual report, issued this week.

In 1928 there was a loss of £1,017, but last season the deficit was £2,418 on first-class matches. Sutcliffe's benefit match was ruined by rain, but owing to a splendid subscription list he received £3,066. Emmott Robinson takes his benefit next season, and has won the Surrey match at a profit of £1,000. The gross gate receipts, including test match and second team games, amounted to £10,571, and members' subscriptions were £2,662. On a turnover of £13,233 for the year there is a surplus of £1,667.

UNIVERSITY LANDS REPORT BEFORE M.P.P.'S

Daykin Says Building Scheme Will Get No Money From Sale of Area

He Reports Sale Returns Will Yield Nothing For University Operation Costs

Two decades ago British Columbia set aside a large and valuable area of land at Point Grey to build its provincial university and pay its operating costs. To-day the Legislature of British Columbia was informed the sale of the entire area will not pay for the cost of developing it, including the university buildings, leaving not a cent for the operating costs of the university and nothing to complete the university building scheme.

This information was given when Hon. E. E. Price, Minister of Education, tabled in the Legislature the report of A. N. Daykin, special investigator, who last year made an inquiry into the affairs of the University Subdivision.

The report says there are 1,944 acres of salable land, and land already sold, in the area apart from the university campus and farm parks, etc.

The report then adds: "I have requested the auditor of revenue to prepare a full statement of moneys due under this section, with the interest computed to June 30 last, and this amount is given as $6,007,930. It will therefore be seen that the amount charged against the lands at the present time amounts to $3,396 per acre, which is, it can be readily seen, more than the value of the lands. While undoubtedly the lands will increase in value in the future, interest must be added at the rate of $330,000 per annum."

"I do not think anyone could expect that sum could be realized from the land. It is apparent, therefore, that if the lands are to remain charged with this amount, there can be no sum realized for endowment purposes."

TWO ENTRIES ARE REPORTED

Two burglaries which failed to produce a haul were reported to the police Saturday night. Premises at 1215 Chapman Street were ransacked prior to 9 o'clock in the evening. Police investigation revealed that entry had been effected through a rear window, but as far as could be ascertained, nothing was taken.

The residence of R. Eastham, 1745 Bank Street, was entered between 8:15 o'clock Saturday night and 12:45 o'clock Sunday morning by means of a basement door.

BUSINESS GAINS DESPITE COLD

general sales manager of the U.S.L. Battery Limited.

On his tour of the principal cities of the west, E. E. Price, general sales manager of the U.S.L. Battery Limited, has arrived at the Empress Hotel from Toronto and is spending a few days on the coast.

Discussing business conditions, Mr. Price said that notwithstanding the cold weather and the heavy snow in the east, the battery business of his company this year was ahead of that for the corresponding period of last year. In British Columbia, he said, the company's representatives were doing an exceptionally fine business and their outlook here was most favorable.

The new U.S.L. Battery plant in Toronto is now working to capacity, Mr. Price said.

LAND PURCHASE IS DISPUTED

Plaintiff in Supreme Court Action Asks Annulment of Pact

Asking for the rescission of an agreement to purchase the northwest quarter of Section 3, Range 9, made in April, 1918, and the return of $1,500 paid on account, Herold H. Thornton commenced action in the Supreme Court to-day against George R. Twanley and Mary Jane Twanley.

The land, described as being part of the lands in the railway belt of the province, was subject to an agreement for sale in April last, when, according to the plaintiff, an agreement was made for its purchase by himself from the defendants. Representations, said to have been made at the time, are now disputed.

The plaintiff claims the return of money advanced under the agreement, and damages.

The regular meeting of Ward Three, Liberal Association, will be held at the Liberal headquarters, corner of Government and Broughton Streets, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. All Liberals are invited to attend.

BREWERS OF CANADA USING MUCH B.C. HOPS

Hop Fields of Sardis Pressed to Supply Demand, Says Fred Haas

Americans Flock to City in Celebration of Washington's Birthday

Hops grown in British Columbia are used by brewers all over Canada in the manufacture of beer, and production is being steadily increased in order to supply the demand. It was stated to-day by Fred Haas, of the firm of John I. Haas, Inc., of Washington, D.C., who is in the city to-day.

The Canadian firm of John I. Haas and Company Limited produces hops on a large scale on its property at Sardis, B.C. Mr. Haas having come on from the Mainland after inspecting the company's interests in this province. He arrived with Mrs. Haas by the night boat from Vancouver and is registered at the Empress Hotel for a few days. Mr. Haas said the outlook for the hop crop for this year appeared particularly good. The firm sold to the trade all over Canada and with the Canadian people taking to beer drinking again, there was a steady demand for the product of the hop fields.

"I found everything satisfactory on my recent visit to Sardis," he said. Mr. and Mrs. Haas like Victoria and never lose an opportunity of visiting here when on the coast.

BORDER INVASION

Americans celebrating the observance of George Washington's birthday flocked into Victoria on Saturday from all points across the border.

The majority of the visitors came from Seattle and Port Angeles. At the Empress Hotel on Saturday a total of 391 guests were registered overnight.

CHARGE AFTER WRECK OF AUTO

Lyle Treore Faces Auto Theft Count; Chase By Officer Ends in Capture

A chase by Motorcycle Officer John Blackstock, which ended in a smash-up on Mason Street yesterday, resulted in the appearance in City Police Court this morning of Lyle Treore on a charge of stealing an automobile.

R. C. Lowe, who appeared for the accused, asked for a remand until Thursday and requested bail.

City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison told the court the offence was of a serious nature. The accused, he said, was alleged to have stolen the car and have taken it for a drive. He was followed by the motorcycle officer and drove the car into a telephone pole. Clearing out of the wreck, he had taken to his heels only to be caught by the officer, said Mr. Harrison.

Bail was set at $2,000 in two sureties.

The car, owned by Frank Turbot, was reported to have been taken from the corner of Blanchard Street and Pandora Avenue.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, Feb. 24.—Wheat: The wheat market continued disorganized. With a lack of export business and very little outside interest being shown, the local market was very heavy, prices breaking over four cents in the May futures from the close Saturday, while Chicago broke fully six cents from the close Friday.
Offerings were pretty liberal throughout the session, largely by way of liquidation, but the selling was scattered and no large amounts were thrown on the market from any particular source. The chief feature was the poor demand and at times the market appeared to sink of its own weight. Seaboard estimated sales over the week-end at around 300,000 bushels in all positions, but so far as this could be confirmed locally the sales consisted largely of durum. There were a few rallies from time to time, but they were feeble and not maintained, the lowest levels being reached in the latter part of the session.
Very little doing in the cash wheat market, but a fair demand existed for the odd cars, which were the only lots trading. Spreads were not interested in prevailing quotations.

The United States visible decreased 1,000,000 bushels and the Canadian visible decreased 3,000,000 bushels. These figures are very small for this time of the year, especially considering the heavy supplies.
Coarse grains: These markets, while lower, were somewhat firmer than wheat, there being no particular pressure in evidence. There was not much feature to oats or barley in the futures market, but there was some very good buying of July rye. There is a continued good demand from eastern Canada for all low-grade oats and mixed for feeding purposes.
Flax—This market continued dull and sluggish, no feature.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Chicago, Feb. 24.—Wheat: Scattered liquidation was in evidence most of the day together with some losses carrying prices off a cent or more. With lowest prices on the record recorded. The persistent weakness in all outside and foreign markets discouraged any attempt to exert bull influence on the market. While the amount of liquidation was heavy, the most discouraging feature was the slow export buying, fair sales made Friday appeared to satisfy foreign buyers for the time being.
Primary receipts were larger than a year ago, and the question of storage room is again coming to the front. Statistics were about as expected abroad, and had little influence on the market.
Canadian country marketings were 104,000 bushels vs. 735,000 a year ago. Liverpool closed 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 lower than Saturday. Winnipeg was also heavy. On passage stocks decreased 1,500,000 bushels for the week. Clearances were 221,000 bushels.
Export sales only about 400,000 bushels. With a liquidating market, it is impossible to tell how far prices will go, but prices are down to a level which seems low, with all the crop hazards yet to be encountered.
Corn—Made a low on the crop, the market becoming unsettled owing to the decline in wheat. The general news on corn was more favorable to buyers.
There were no country sales to arrive, while shipping sales were 146,000 bushels. Receipts were smaller at 294 cars estimated at Chicago, but primary run was 2,337,000 bushels vs. 1,561,000 a year ago.
Rainy conditions tend to retard marketing and no large run is now looked for some time. Except for the situation in wheat corn would be given support at these levels. Spot basis steady, to two cents higher.
Oats—Made new low. The general situation hinges on the developments in wheat to a great extent. Cash sales $3.00 bushels with prices steady to half cent higher.
Rye—Sold off with wheat, further liquidation being in evidence on the decline.

WHEAT LOSSES ENORMOUS AS PRICES CRASH

Winnipeg, Feb. 24.—Wheat prices crashed nearly five cents a bushel lower to-day, with May hitting 110 1/2.
All expedients to hold the market failed.
The financial as well as the agricultural interests of the country are now much concerned as to what is going to happen.
Enormous losses are facing some of the big holders of wheat.
The heavy guarantees which the three western provinces have assumed to the pools and banks in connection with the wheat life-up are alarming holders of the bonds of these provinces, as what guarantees the provinces have to make will be at the expense of the security behind present bond issues.

Very little doing in the cash wheat market, but a fair demand existed for the odd cars, which were the only lots trading. Spreads were not interested in prevailing quotations.
The United States visible decreased 1,000,000 bushels and the Canadian visible decreased 3,000,000 bushels. These figures are very small for this time of the year, especially considering the heavy supplies.
Coarse grains: These markets, while lower, were somewhat firmer than wheat, there being no particular pressure in evidence. There was not much feature to oats or barley in the futures market, but there was some very good buying of July rye. There is a continued good demand from eastern Canada for all low-grade oats and mixed for feeding purposes.
Flax—This market continued dull and sluggish, no feature.

Why Have Long Skirts
Returned to Fashion?

Dorothy Dix

Discuss True
Significance of Hemline

Men May Think That They Prefer the Mannish Woman, But Women Know That This Is Not True, and That in His Heart Every Man's Ideal Woman Is Long-haired and Long-skirted, Says Dorothy Dix—Hence Long Skirts.

ACCORDING to a once popular ditty, "Every little movement has a meaning all its own," so it is not surprising that the intelligent, as well as dress-makers, should be trying to interpret the recent radical change in fashions for women and that the hemline should have become as burning a question as the disarmament proposition.

There are various schools of thought on this subject. A learned writer in Harper's Magazine hails the long skirt as a return to the idealistic days of gallant gentlemen and grand ladies in sweeping draperies, and prophesies that it will end the democracy of women that now exists, in which you cannot tell a millionairess and a salesgirl apart by their clothes.

Others hold that the introduction of the long skirt was put across by manufacturers and dress designers to force women to buy more cloth and scrap their wambles and get a new outfit. Others contend that it is an aesthetic movement and that an outraged public could no longer endure the spectacle of the "Nude Coming Down Stairs" with knobby knees or spindly shanks or piano-leg ankles, and so rang the curtain down on the eye-blasting sight, while still others believe that the elongated skirt means nothing but that woman is running true to form and is merely expressing her love of change and her incessant craving for something new and different.

A curious feature of this discussion is that men, who usually look upon the vagaries of women's fashions as they do upon the inscrutable workings of Providence, as something which a man may like or not but with which he does not presume to meddle, are taking an active part in the argument pro and con, and outside of those who stand to profit by the change, they are almost unanimously against it.

Indeed, so ardently do they espouse the cause of the short skirt that a number of business men's clubs have passed resolutions on the subject, declaring that no long-skirted stenographer, no matter how peachy her complexion nor what a come-hither look she has in her eye nor what her batting average at a typewriter, need apply for a job with them. Nor is this hard to understand when one remembers the hampering dust-sweepers that women wore in other years and which required the unhindered use of one hand to manage.

At that time, however, the compact and the custom of a woman making up her face in public had not been invented, so a woman was left with one hand to attend to the ordinary affairs of life, but now with one hand occupied with a lipstick and the other holding up her skirts she would be practically useless, as employers foresee.

Another reason that men are advocates of the short skirt is because they constitutionally dislike innovations and, having become hardened, so to speak, to women's legs and gowns so they don't notice them, they resent having female limbs being called to their attention again by being put in the peep-show class once more.

And still another reason why men are strong for the short skirt is because it can be treated much more burlesquely than a train can. It does not demand the grand manner of men. It does not have to have an arm to lean on. It does not have to be assisted over a gutter.

The girl in a knee-length skirt is a little brother who can look after herself and pay her own part of a Dutch treat and put on her own tire on a car, but a woman in a long skirt is a clinging vine whom every man must take care of, and so, naturally, men sigh as they think of having to brace up and be sturdy oaks again and props for parasites.

It may be asked, then, since women primarily dress to please men and men are loud in their advocacy of the short skirt, why should women lengthen their skirts by even a hand's breadth? The answer is that the study of man has made women clairvoyant and that women know what men want in women better than men know it themselves. Men may think that they prefer the mannish woman, but women know that this is not true and that in his heart every man's ideal woman is long-haired and long-skirted.

The shingled-haired, short-skirted creature that you had to take two looks at, and often more, before you could determine its sex, was a sort of after-war experiment in femininity. She had her place in that brutal day in which there was not place for sentiment or the soft things of life; when romance had been trampled under foot and sentiment torn to tatters; when men had no inclination toward loveliness and, in effect, wooed their mates as their cave-men ancestors did—with a club.

Nor were they keen on marrying at all. They asked the short-skirted girl to be a pal or a buddy instead of a wife. They talked about companionate marriages instead of love-until-death and shielding a woman from the world.

The result was that gradually women woke up and perceived that all of this imitation-man business was getting them nowhere and that if they wanted men to regard them as women and treat them as women they would have to go back to being women and looking like women. And the first move has been to dress the part.

In this they do but follow the example of Mother Eve, who knew more than any psychologist has ever found out about women and on whose technique no daughter has ever improved. Her first move upon acquiring wisdom was to make her a skirt, and without doubt it had an uneven hemline and half revealed, half concealed her ankles.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY

It's a thrifty custom to buy a whole ham if the housekeeper is sure none of it will be wasted. The choice middle cuts always are high when bought separately, but if the whole ham is purchased they are not considered. But end, both end and centre are regarded as a whole and priced at so much per pound regardless.

There are numerous ways of cooking ham, but I believe that the most meals can be served with less danger of the family becoming tired of the same meat if both the ends are boiled and then worked up into interesting dishes. The centre can be cut in slices for broiling. Then the ends are put together and securely tied and treated as a whole ham. Plan how the entire ham is to be used and then there will be chance for waste.

Although it is not absolutely necessary to soak all hams before boiling, I have found it advisable to do so even though I am sure of my brand and the saltiness of my particular ham. An over-night bath in clear fresh water cannot be harmful and will restore the moistness lost through curing. If ham has been over-salted, soaking is imperative to make it tender as well as palatable.

There are two precautions to keep in mind when broiling or boiling ham. Never cook a highly salted piece of meat rapidly, and in the case of broiling or sauteing, do not depend on it to furnish its own fat entirely. Always begin to cook ham over a low fire and increase heat gradually.

Put ham on to boil in cold water, bring slowly to the boiling point and simmer gently until tender. The time will vary, but it will take four or five hours for a twelve pound ham. Boiled ham can be used in innumerable appetizing ways and is excellent to have in the ice-box for an "emergency."

When the whole joint is to be baked, it always is boiled first and then baked only long enough to brown the outside and season it.

Ham loaf, ham sandwiches, ham salad, ham croquettes, ham and chicken combinations, ham and veal combinations, plain sliced ham, broiled boiled ham, ham ramikins, ham and sweet potatoes, ham and pineapple—all these dishes and many others use boiled ham in their making and are delicious.

Ham scalloped with pineapple and sweet potatoes is a luncheon dish suitable for a most festive occasion.

HAM SCALLOPED WITH PINEAPPLE AND SWEET POTATOES

Boiled ham, 3 cups diced sweet potatoes, 1 small can sliced pineapple, 4 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons butter.

Cut ham in pieces convenient for serving. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in baking dish, add sweet potatoes, sprinkle with sugar and dot with remaining butter. Add ham and cover with slices of pineapple. Pour pineapple juice over the whole and cover dish. Bake in a moderately hot oven until potatoes are cooked, about forty minutes. Remove cover and increase heat to slightly brown top of pineapple. Serve from baking dish.

Patients Taken Out As Fire Sweeps Hospital

Providence, R. I., Feb. 24.—Removal of 148 patients, including fourteen infants and eleven older children, was accomplished safely by nurses, police and firemen and volunteer citizens early yesterday as flames damaged St. Joseph's Hospital here.

The fire destroyed more than half of the fourth and fifth stories of the structure.

Human bones continue to grow until the twenty-fifth year.

PACIFIC STEAMSHIP CO.

BAD WEATHER MAKES LINER TWO DAYS LATE

Iyo Maru Docked This Morning After Rough Passage
From Yokohama

Completes Her Last Trip Before Being Placed in Orient-
South America Service

Completing her last inbound trip in the North Pacific service,
the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner
Iyo Maru docked at the Rithet piers this morning at 7 o'clock from ports in China and Japan after a rough trip which delayed her forty-eight hours. It took her sixteen days to make the voyage
from Yokohama.

Capt. M. Shingo, master of the ship, reported one of the roughest voyages of his career on the Pacific. "For several days in mid-Pacific the ship battled stiff head winds, which held her back considerably. She emerged the worse for her dusting, however, and the passengers suffered little from the voyage, although all were a little glad when it was over."

The waterfront of Victoria will bid formal farewell to the Iyo Maru on March 8 when she sails on her final voyage from Victoria after being in service to this port for many years.
The advent of the new ships will relieve the Iyo for different service, and in May, after completing overhaul in Japan, she will go on the Orient-South America route of the company. This service will take her on long voyages, one round trip taking six months. She will travel from Japan, through the Straits Settlements and India to South Africa, and then across the southern Atlantic Ocean to ports on the east coast of South America.

The passenger list aboard the Iyo this morning was fair. Three traveling all Japanese, left the ship at this port. Among the cabin passengers for Seattle was W. H. Way, en route to Europe from Shanghai. Mr. Way will leave Seattle on the Great Northern this evening for New York, and will sail from that port on March 8 aboard the Guinard liner Ausonia for Plymouth.
Six first-cabin passengers and forty-three steerage went on to Seattle. Most of them were Japanese.

Cargo aboard the ship was fair, there being fifty tons for Victoria and 2,450 tons for Seattle, including 1,887 bales of raw silk for trans-shipment to eastern United States silk mills. Included in the cargo for Seattle was a shipment of 5,000,000 yen in gold, the second largest shipment to ever pass through Victoria this year. It is consigned to the San Francisco mint, where it will be converted into United States money.

CAPTAIN IS OFF DOOMED COAST SHIP

Skipper Left Yesterday After Remaining Aboard Ill-fated
Admiral Benson For Week

Fort Canby, Wash., Feb. 24.—The ill-fated Admiral Benson, without human companionship, rocked in its grooves on the Peacock Spit, off the mouth of the Columbia River, alone last night after Capt. Charles Graham, commander of the stranded craft, abandoned his vigil and left the ship in a breeches buoy.

After collecting his gear at the coast guard station here, Capt. Graham left for Astoria and Portland, where he will appear before Federal steamboat inspectors to tell his version of the wreck of the Admiral Benson, which grounded the night of February 15.

Salvors, however, remained on guard on the shore opposite the grounded boat. A heavy sea, which began during the afternoon yesterday, had grown to such proportions that waves broke over the stern of the craft.
Coast guardmen at Fort Canby said that after an afternoon of rain and wind squalls on Saturday, the weather had settled down and the Benson seemed as secure in her position as ever. Considerable gear was landed on the beach Saturday, preparatory to the start of salvage operations yesterday.

"The ship is taking some water aft as the sterns deeper by the stern. The bow is now high and part of the hull can be seen from the beach. She lies at an angle from the surf, her bow pointing northwesterly."

The Pacific Salvage Company is to be assisted in the work of taking cargo and baggage from the Benson and later in the attempt to free the ship by the Columbia River Salvage Company, it is reported here. Fred Devine and Art Zimmerman, liners from Portland, are associated with the Cherry interest of Astoria in this company.

A committee of ten was named to this part of the riding who might be

Chilliwack delegates with their united

Smallpox Case Aboard Aorangi In New Zealand

Auckland, N.Z., Feb. 24.—The motor liner Aorangi, bound from Victoria and Vancouver to Sydney, Australia, was forced to put in at quarantine yesterday because a woman passenger was suffering from a mild form of smallpox.
She had booked second class from Vancouver to Sydney.

Passengers bound for Auckland were allowed to disembark, but they will be quarantined for three weeks. The vessel afterwards proceeded to Australia.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Feb. 24.—The motorship Somerville, fourth of the eight new vessels of this class to be built for the Klaskanine Line, is due here March 13
via coast ports on her maiden voyage.
She is scheduled to sail direct for Shanghai three days later and will then proceed to Hongkong, Manila and the Dutch East Indies. She will return to San Francisco and then up the coast again in preparation for her second Oriental voyage.

The entire fleet of eight ships will eventually be routed into the trade between the Pacific Coast and the Orient.
Five of the ships have tank facilities for handling bulk oil.

severe gashes in his throat in the washroom of a Canadian Pacific westbound train arriving here at 7.40 o'clock Sunday, died in a local hospital at 1.15 o'clock this morning.

Carter was shaving in the washroom of a standard sleeper, using a straight razor. Shortly after he had entered the washroom he was discovered on the floor with his throat badly slashed. A nurse on the train rendered first aid until the train reached Calgary.
